Salaam, Mr. President

If I could say one thing to the president,
Before his guards pulled me away,
If I could say just one thing to the president,
This is what I would say:

I would say no more capitalism in the name of democracy,
No more exportation of our greed,
If I could say just one thing to the president,
No more trouncing the world for treasures, my words would surely be.

We already live on stolen land, Mr. President,
We have our debts to pay,
No more harm to other peoples,
That's what I would say.

No more building of nuclear weapons,
To foment hate around the world,
No more arming one side against another,
Or fueling strife, enmity, or discord.

No more violence in the name of Peace,
Or invasions of any sort,
No more exploitation of others' resources,
These evils dear president, please abort.

Our time here is limited, Mr. President,
And there is so much good we can do,
Spread peace and joy, unity and happiness,
To help God's light shine through.

Yes, if I could say just one thing to the president,
Which summarizes ALL that needs changing today,
The one word I would choose to utter is 'Salaam', which means PEACE in every way.

Statement By the President

Dr. D. James Kennedy was a man of great vision, faith, and integrity. Under his leadership, Coral Ridge Presbyterian Church of Florida developed from a small group of worshipers in an elementary school cafeteria into one of America's most prominent congregations. Dr. Kennedy's message of love and hope inspired millions of Americans and others worldwide through the institutions he founded, including Coral Ridge Ministries, Knox Theological Seminary, and Westminster Academy. He was also a student of history and successful author who encouraged Americans of faith to exercise their democratic freedoms and put their values into practice. His legacy of grace and personal humility will continue to influence hearts and lives.

Laura and I will pray for Anne, his wife of over 50 years, and the rest of the Kennedy family.

Dear Mr. President,

Thank you for meeting with me. My Family loved you and the first Lady. (Of course your wife). The American people where I live have gained hope & spirit that our part of the country will not be forgotten about. Mr. President you reassured them, I Thank you for that! Mr. President I am asking for another get together. I would love for you to walk on ground zero in my neighborhood and see first hand the children, teens, and adults who are rebuilding and love this Part of America. I also would love to take you up on your offer to go on a fishing trip. We have a legendary fisherman down here his name is Blackie Campo. Mr. Blackie. been living in St. Bernard all of his 88 years with his wife of 67 years Mrs. Mahel. I have a short DVD to show you of Blackie & Mahel Campo. Please Mr. President if you are coming to the region, I would love to show you life on the Bayou.

Thank you President Bush,
(your friend)

Rebecky Vaccarella -

Mr. President

My name is Larry w. Large. I am the father of Sgt. Bryan W. Large, 504 th Parachute Infantry Regiment 82 nd Airborne Division. My son was killed in action on Oct 04 2005 in Al Haqlinia, Iraq while serving his country during combat operations. Bryan was a proud soldier, a devoted father [redacted] (b)(6) Bryan was serving his third combat tour having served in Afghanistan in 2003, Iraq 2004, and Iraq in 2005. My son was medic who served his country well, and was exactly where he wanted to be on that day that has changed our families lives forever. Bryan was totally committed to his country, his faith, his duty, his fellow servicemen, and his family.

I write today to ask for the opportunity to speak directly with you Mr. President. I have no intentions of being critical of your polices. I would just like the opportunity to sit and talk father to father. Mr. President I see so much on the news these days where you are with so many people of different backgrounds and ideals and, not demeaning any of these people, I can only think that they have not gone through what my family and i have gone through. Our family has made the ultimate sacrifice for our country, for your beliefs Mr. President, for our families beliefs, and for the betterment of The United States of America.

I have given this letter to Senator Mike Dewine to give directly to you. Senator Dewine was at my sons calling hours and has also written my sons story into the congressional record. Politics aside, Mr. Dewine stepped up when our family needed that and we deeply appreciate him stepping up again in delivering this letter directly to you. I hope Mr. President that we can have that meeting. I will do whatever it takes to have this happen. Thank you Mr. President for taking the time to read my request.

Below I have placed all of my contact information for your easy reference and I hope to hear from you in the immediate future.

respectfully submitted

Dear President Bush,

Welcome back to Cincinnati.

Thank you for supporting Sen. DeWine. He has served us well. He is also a compassionate person. Our family was honored when he delivered the eulogy for our son. Sgt. David Kreuter Lima 3/25 KIA 08/03/2005 Iraq. He and in particular his aide, Ann O' Donnell have been very supportive. Our appreciation can't be adequately expressed in words.

I'm still hoping I'll have the opportunity to meet with you. It seems I get close and then "poof" nothing has happened. I know you are more than extremely busy with world affairs and the election. I am more than willing to visit DC for the meeting and I can come on a day's notice. Or, next time you are in Cincinnati, I could take you to Larosa's for a great pizza. I really feel like I'm bothering you but until your department of scheduling tells me there is no chance, I'm going to keep trying.

Please understand I am not a "Cindy Sheehan" but I do miss David. You were his Commander.

I hope to have the opportunity to meet with you soon. I hope your visit to Cincinnati was pleasant. One final note-- Ohio State 24 Texas 7. GO BUCKS!

Respectfully,

Pat Murray

Ford's Theatre Lincoln Medal Frequently Asked Questions

What is Ford's Theatre?

The site of one of the most significant events in American history, Ford's Theatre is the only cultural landmark where diverse audiences of all ages can experience Abraham Lincoln's life, legacy, and love of the performing arts. A historic stage for award-winning theatrical productions and home to a museum that tells the story of Lincoln's last days, Ford's Theatre connects us to the lasting effect of Lincoln's presidency, his untimely death, and what it means to be an American.

What is the Ford's Theatre Lincoln Medal?

Ford's Theatre Lincoln Medal is an annual award given by Ford's Theatre to individuals who through their body of work, accomplishments or personal attributes exemplify the lasting legacy, and mettle of character embodied by the most beloved president in our Nation's history, President Abraham Lincoln.

When and where is it awarded?

Traditionally, Ford's Theatre Lincoln Medal is given to recipients at the Ford's Theatre benefit held annually in the theater where President Abraham Lincoln was shot on April 14, 1865.

As a kick off to the celebration of the Bicentennial of President Abraham Lincoln's birth in February of 2009, the President and Mrs. Bush will host the Ford's Theatre Lincoln Medal award ceremony and dinner at The White House on February 11, 2007.

What are the criteria used to select recipients?

Recipients of Ford's Theatre Lincoln Medal should illuminate or reflect Lincoln's legacy of leadership, service, humanity, wisdom, eloquence and vision in their body of work, accomplishments or personal attributes. As Ford's Theatre serves as a connection point and reminder of Lincoln's legacy, so must the recipients of Ford's Theatre Lincoln Medal, helping us understand the beloved 16th president's lasting impact in a contemporary light and how it continues to inspire generations of Americans.

Who selects the recipients?

The Executive Committee of the Ford's Theatre Board evaluates and determines who will receive the Ford's Theatre Lincoln Medal.

What does the medal look like?

Ford's Theatre Lincoln Medal is a sterling silver circular medal that is two and half inches in diameter. On one side is a raised profile of President Abraham Lincoln with his name, birth and death dates, February 12, 1809 to April 15, 1865. On the reverse is a raised illustration of Ford's Theatre and its date of establishment, 1863.

Why and when was it established?

Ford's Theatre Lincoln Medal was first established to recognize individuals whose contributions to the life of Ford's Theatre have had a profound impact on the institution and its mission. The first Ford's Theatre Lincoln Medal was awarded in 1981 to North Dakota Senator Milton Young who introduced legislation to renovate and refurbish Ford's Theatre.

Beginning with the 2007 Ford's Theatre Lincoln Medal and continuing through the Bicentennial in 2009, Ford's Theatre will recognize those whose work has illuminated President Abraham Lincoln's life, legacy, and death in unparalleled ways through scholarship or support of the institution.

Why were David Herbert Donald and Doris Kearns Goodwin selected as the 2007 Ford's Theatre Lincoln Medal recipients?

Acclaimed historians, scholars and authors David Herbert Donald and Doris Kearns Goodwin have both authored definitive works on President Abraham Lincoln that have illuminated President Abraham Lincoln's life, legacy, and death in unparalleled ways.

Pulitzer Prize-winning historian Dr. David Herbert Donald authored the acclaimed Lincoln, considered the definitive biography of Abraham Lincoln. Donald was the first to tell the story of Lincoln's life "as he saw it, making use only of the information and ideas that were available to him at the time. My purpose was to explain rather than judge." Donald humanized Lincoln by relying heavily on Lincoln's personal papers including manuscripts and thousands of letters that came across the desk of the 16th president that until 1947 had sealed by the Library of Congress. David's Lincoln allows the reader to see and feel what Lincoln saw in The White House during the tumultuous times he served the nation. Donald has written over thirty books, including Lincoln's Herndon, Lincoln Reconsidered and The Civil War and Reconstruction

Doris Kearns Goodwin is one of the leading historians of our time. Her New York Times best-selling multiple biography, Team of Rivals: The Political Genius of Abraham Lincoln illuminates Lincoln's political genius as the prairie lawyer and one-term congressman rises from obscurity to prevail over three nationally known and gifted rivals to become president. It profiles the entire team of personal and political competitors that Lincoln assembled to lead the country through its greatest crisis. Goodwin's Team of Rivals is a highly original and provocative work, centered on how Lincoln's mastery of men shaped the most significant presidency in America's history.

Who is Doris Kearns Goodwin?

Doris Kearns Goodwin won the Pulitzer Prize in history for No Ordinary Time: Franklin and Eleanor Roosevelt: The Home Front in World War II, which was a bestseller in hardcover and trade paper. She is also the author of the bestsellers Team of Rivals: The Political Genius of Abraham Lincoln, Wait Till Next Year, The Fitzgeralds and the Kennedys, and Lyndon Johnson and the American Dream. She worked as an assistant to President Lyndon Johnson and assisted him on the preparation of his memoirs. She taught a course on the American Presidency at Harvard University, where she received her Ph.D. in Government and was a Woodrow Wilson Fellow. Ms. Goodwin serves as an NBC-TV news analyst and lectures around the world. She lives in Concord, Massachusetts, with her husband, Richard Goodwin.

Who is David Herbert Donald?

David Herbert Donald is the author of numerous books including Lincoln (on The New York Times best seller list for 14 weeks), Lincoln's Herndon, Lincoln Reconsidered and The Civil War and Reconstruction. He has twice won the Pulitzer Prize for biography: in 1961 for Charles Sumner and the Coming of the Civil War and in 1988 for Look Homeward: A Life of Thomas Wolfe. The Charles Warren Professor of American History at Harvard University, he has also taught at Johns Hopkins, Princeton, Oxford, and Columbia. He was a member of the United States delegation that accompanied Mrs. Bush to Paris for the resumption of American membership in UNESCO.

Who are the past Ford's Theatre Lincoln Medal winners?

Ford's Theatre Lincoln Medal was first established to recognize individuals whose contributions to the life of Ford's Theatre have had a profound impact on the institution and its mission. The first Ford's Theatre Lincoln Medal was awarded in 1981 to North Dakota Senator Milton Young who introduced legislation to renovate and refurbish Ford's Theatre. Other recipients have included First Ladies Laura Bush, Hillary Rodham Clinton, Barbara Bush, Nancy Reagan, and Lady Bird Johnson as well as Nicholas D. Chabraja, Chairman and CEO of General Dynamics, Robert Iger, President and CEO of the Walt Disney Company, Carl Linder, Chairman and CEO of American Financial Group, James Whitmore, and the Honorable Stewart Udall, Secretary of the Interior.

Ford's Theatre Lincoln Medal Frequently Asked Questions

What is Ford's Theatre?

The site of one of the most significant events in American history, Ford's Theatre is the only cultural landmark where diverse audiences of all ages can experience Abraham Lincoln's life, legacy, and love of the performing arts. A historic stage for award-winning theatrical productions and home to a museum that tells the story of Lincoln's last days, Ford's Theatre connects us to the lasting effect of Lincoln's presidency, his untimely death, and what it means to be an American.

What is the Ford's Theatre Lincoln Medal?

Ford's Theatre Lincoln Medal is an annual award given by Ford's Theatre to individuals who through their body of work, accomplishments or personal attributes exemplify the lasting legacy, and mettle of character embodied by the most beloved president in our Nation's history, President Abraham Lincoln.

When and where is it awarded?

Traditionally, Ford's Theatre Lincoln Medal is given to recipients at the Ford's Theatre benefit held annually in the theater where President Abraham Lincoln was shot on April 14, 1865.

As a kick off to the celebration of the Bicentennial of President Abraham Lincoln's birth in February of 2009, the President and Mrs. Bush will host the Ford's Theatre Lincoln Medal award ceremony and dinner at The White House on February 11, 2007.

What are the criteria used to select recipients?

Recipients of Ford's Theatre Lincoln Medal should illuminate or reflect Lincoln's legacy of leadership, service, humanity, wisdom, eloquence and vision in their body of work, accomplishments or personal attributes. As Ford's Theatre serves as a connection point and reminder of Lincoln's legacy, so must the recipients of Ford's Theatre Lincoln Medal, helping us understand the beloved 16th president's lasting impact in a contemporary light and how it continues to inspire generations of Americans.

Who selects the recipients?

The Executive Committee of the Ford's Theatre Board evaluates and determines who will receive the Ford's Theatre Lincoln Medal.

What does the medal look like?

Ford's Theatre Lincoln Medal is a sterling silver circular medal that is two and half inches in diameter. On one side is a raised profile of President Abraham Lincoln with his name, birth and death dates, February 12, 1809 to April 15, 1865. On the reverse is a raised illustration of Ford's Theatre and its date of establishment, 1863.

Why and when was it established?

Ford's Theatre Lincoln Medal was first established to recognize individuals whose contributions to the life of Ford's Theatre have had a profound impact on the institution and its mission. The first Ford's Theatre Lincoln Medal was awarded in 1981 to North Dakota Senator Milton Young who introduced legislation to renovate and refurbish Ford's Theatre.

Beginning with the 2007 Ford's Theatre Lincoln Medal and continuing through the Bicentennial in 2009, Ford's Theatre will recognize those whose work has illuminated President Abraham Lincoln's life, legacy, and death in unparalleled ways through scholarship or support of the institution.

Why were David Herbert Donald and Doris Kearns Goodwin selected as the 2007 Ford's Theatre Lincoln Medal recipients?

Acclaimed historians, scholars and authors David Herbert Donald and Doris Kearns Goodwin have both authored definitive works on President Abraham Lincoln that have illuminated President Abraham Lincoln's life, legacy, and death in unparalleled ways.

Pulitzer Prize-winning historian Dr. David Herbert Donald authored the acclaimed Lincoln, considered the definitive biography of Abraham Lincoln. Donald was the first to tell the story of Lincoln's life "as he saw it, making use only of the information and ideas that were available to him at the time. My purpose was to explain rather than judge." Donald humanized Lincoln by relying heavily on Lincoln's personal papers including manuscripts and thousands of letters that came across the desk of the 16th president that until 1947 had sealed by the Library of Congress. David's Lincoln allows the reader to see and feel what Lincoln saw in The White House during the tumultuous times he served the nation. Donald has written over thirty books, including Lincoln's Herndon, Lincoln Reconsidered and The Civil War and Reconstruction

Doris Kearns Goodwin is one of the leading historians of our time. Her New York Times best-selling multiple biography, Team of Rivals: The Political Genius of Abraham Lincoln illuminates Lincoln's political genius as the prairie lawyer and one-term congressman rises from obscurity to prevail over three nationally known and gifted rivals to become president. It profiles the entire team of personal and political competitors that Lincoln assembled to lead the country through its greatest crisis. Goodwin's Team of Rivals is a highly original and provocative work, centered on how Lincoln's mastery of men shaped the most significant presidency in America's history.

Who is Doris Kearns Goodwin?

Doris Kearns Goodwin won the Pulitzer Prize in history for No Ordinary Time: Franklin and Eleanor Roosevelt: The Home Front in World War II, which was a bestseller in hardcover and trade paper. She is also the author of the bestsellers Team of Rivals: The Political Genius of Abraham Lincoln, Wait Till Next Year, The Fitzgeralds and the Kennedys, and Lyndon Johnson and the American Dream. She worked as an assistant to President Lyndon Johnson and assisted him on the preparation of his memoirs. She taught a course on the American Presidency at Harvard University, where she received her Ph.D. in Government and was a Woodrow Wilson Fellow. Ms. Goodwin serves as an NBC-TV news analyst and lectures around the world. She lives in Concord, Massachusetts, with her husband, Richard Goodwin.

Who is David Herbert Donald?

David Herbert Donald is the author of numerous books including Lincoln (on The New York Times best seller list for 14 weeks), Lincoln's Herndon, Lincoln Reconsidered and The Civil War and Reconstruction. He has twice won the Pulitzer Prize for biography: in 1961 for Charles Sumner and the Coming of the Civil War and in 1988 for Look Homeward: A Life of Thomas Wolfe. The Charles Warren Professor of American History at Harvard University, he has also taught at Johns Hopkins, Princeton, Oxford, and Columbia. He was a member of the United States delegation that accompanied Mrs. Bush to Paris for the resumption of American membership in UNESCO.

Draft

At our breakfast meeting on xxx, we discussed education for all, and you invited me to write to you on how the US and UK might work together on this important agenda.

The US under your leadership deserves greater credit for its recognition of the importance of education, especially for girls, in achieving the range of development goals. I was delighted when you chose to announce your extra $500million for the African Girls Education Initiative in the run up to Gleneagles.

I believe that by making further investments in education you can build on this foundation to create a lasting legacy that, alongside PEPFAR, can become the driving force for poverty reduction in Africa. What is more this would be driven by self-generated growth and enterprise, and not a permanent dependency on aid. There are a number of reasons why education is key:

- As East Asia and more recently India and China have shown education is essential to economic growth, supporting enterprise, wealth creation and providing the skilled labour force needed to attract investment.
- Education is one of the best ways of improving health outcomes. Girls' education reduces child mortality and reduces HIV/AIDS. In Swaziland, two thirds of teenage girls in school are free from HIV, while two thirds of girls out of school have HIV. A sustained education programme would underpin the outcomes from PEPFAR.
- Education is necessary for well functioning, democratic and accountable states based on meritocracy and opportunity for all. If we are to require democracy from developing countries, we should also help to enable it by investing in the skills citizens need to hold their governments to account.
- Education helps us to tackle the spread of terrorism. Where state provision of education does not exist, unaccountable and undesirable institutions, like some of the maddrassas which are spreading extremism, will fill the vaccuum.

Despite the progress that has been made, there are still nearly 80 million children worldwide who do not go to school. Nearly 60% of these are girls. All are denied the most basic chance to reach their potential.

Offering all children worldwide access to a basic education is within our grasp. The costs are estimated at around $10 billion a year by 2010. Shared internationally this is not a large investment: only $10 a year per person in all the rich countries of the world. The UK has already committed its share of the funds, by making available $15 billion over 10 years which we will now allocate to specific countries and programmes.

I appreciate your current budgetary constraints. A small but consistent appropriation over a number of years could go a long way, not least in leveraging the interest of other donors. The European Commission are hosting a major education donor conference in the Spring at which we hope many countries will be persuaded to increase their funding for education. The US could lead the way here.

Alternatively, but perhaps with less impact you could use some of your existing funds, for example in the Millennium Challenge Account, for education would also achieve a great deal. There is a strong overlap between those countries which could use the money well for education - and have sound, credible plans to prove it - and those which are eligible for MCA funding.

Your leadership can play a crucial role here as catalyst to lever in action from across the world. I am convinced that you could build on initiatives such as the African Girls Education Initiative, and make a real difference to the future of Africa and other developing nations.

I welcome your thoughts and hope that we can work together on this important issue.
