NES Health: Pioneering the Revolutionary Science & System For Total Wellness in Healthcare

Have you ever considered that in a state of total wellness, the body's cells and organs always know what to do, and do it perfectly? The latest science is revealing the mechanisms that allow the body's optimal functioning, and also what can cause it to lose resilience and efficacy, and to even malfunction.

All of the science, along with our extensive research and testing, has demonstrated that the root cause of malfunction – as well as the source of optimal functioning – exists beneath the physiology of the body. We must look to the physics underlying our biochemistry.

For this reason, scientists have identified 3 critical factors for health that must be addressed if we are to reclaim the body's total wellness and optimal functioning.

NES Health is the only system that addresses all three critical factors for human health and total wellness, allowing you to correct all aspects of the body: its information, energy and physiology.

While traditional healthcare has primarily focused on physiology, we are now seeing that energy and information control biology. In fact, frontier science proves that there is a regulating field of energy and information that operates in the physical body at the subcellular level. At NES Health, we call this the Human Body-Field (HBF), and we have researched its functions and structures for more than 30 years. In that time we have discovered that the root causes of physical problems are distortions and blockages in the body-field, which serves as a master control system for all physiological function.

For this reason, we have developed a powerful Total WellNES System, which includes our suite of solutions – NES ProVision, NES miHealth, NES Infoceuticals, and NEStrition – to correct these distortions and address the 3 critical factors for health in proper sequence, holistically restoring the body and its functioning back to optimal well-being.

By looking at and correcting all three aspects of the body – its energy, information and physiology — we can reverse any downward spiral in a person's health and build momentum in an upward spiral towards total wellness.

The Total WellNES System helps to restore health using our proprietary 4-step process, which also represents the recommended approach to therapy that can be incorporated into a healthcare practice:

1. (Re)Assess with NES ProVision Advanced Analysis Software
2. Rejuvenate with the NES miHealth Handheld Device
3. Re-Imprint with NES Infoceutical Liquid Drops
4. Rebuild the body with NEStrition Food Supplements

The Total WellNES System – A superior suite of solutions in the hands of a wide range of professionals

Any qualified healthcare practitioner can use the Total WellNES System and is eligible to become a Certified NES Practitioner. Over 4500 medical doctors, chiropractors, naturopaths, nurses, nutritionists, certified massage therapists, acupuncturists and other types of healthcare providers are currently using the Total WellNES System and its component products to complement their existing practices.

NES Practitioners are the visionaries of healthcare. Comfortable on the cutting-edge of science, they are also enthusiastic about bringing their clients the latest advances to achieve optimal well-being. If this describes you, give yourself the advantage and find out how easy it is to include the Total WellNES System in your service offerings.

NES Health – An Introduction

NES Health is the culmination of 30+ years of research into the Human Body-Field (HBF) by the company's former Chief Scientific Officer, the late Peter Fraser – a former acupuncture expert and practitioner of traditional Chinese medicine – and visionary and entrepreneur, Harry Massey.

With more than three decades of research as its solid foundation, and a flourishing global community of highly-trained expert practitioners, NES Health leads the world in energy and informational healthcare.

In his research, Fraser uncovered a system of dynamic, structured energy and information fields that inform the physical body, and thereby regulate physiology. Defining it as the Human Body-Field (HBF), Fraser painstakingly correlated thousands of body-field functions to the physical body, achieving a true integration of ancient Chinese Medicine with modern biology, anatomy and physiology. With that as our basis, we are poised to shape the future of healthcare.

NES Health

Our Origins Lie In A Journey Of Healing

Harry Massey

In 2000, our founder Harry Massey suffered from severe chronic fatigue syndrome which left him bed-ridden for seven years. In that time he tried numerous healing approaches, both conventional and alternative, but nothing provided long-lasting symptom relief, let alone a permanent cure.

Then, as a result of his own research, he met a visionary scientific thinker named Peter Fraser. And everything changed. As an acupuncture expert, Peter had invested more than 20 years researching what he called the 'human body-field' and developing remedies based on his discovery. Harry volunteered to try them and, amazingly, over the next two years he made a full recovery.

Peter Fraser

Peter and Harry worked in close collaboration, combining Peter's stunning research with Harry's entrepreneurial skills and savvy technological insights. Together they founded NES Health (then called Nutri-Energetics Systems) to develop practical applications based on the new understanding that information and energy make up the body-field.

They created the Total WellNES System, the world's first practical system for 'reading' the body-field and then correcting it. The Total WellNES system and its components – NES ProVision, NES Infoceuticals, NEStrition and NES miHealth are everyday essentials for more than 4,500 doctors and healthcare practitioners in 25 countries around the globe.

NES Health: Into The Future... On The Leading Edge

The Total WellNES System allows medical and alternative health practitioners to quickly and easily restore client health using our proprietary 4-step process:

- (Re)Assess
- Rejuvenate
- Re-Imprint
- Rebuild

While achieving powerful results to restore well-being in patients and clients experiencing a multitude of challenges, our approach to wellness also reinforces their long-term relationship and loyalty to their practitioner.

Additionally, though the ordered sequence of the Total WellNES System is important, its effectiveness also stems from its simple ongoing repetition. Every month, you again re-assess the body and deliver what it needs most in that current moment. We include comprehensive practitioner training & resources as well, so that you can employ the system with confidence.

Here's a look at the component solutions included in the Total WellNES System...

NES ProVision

(Re)Assess the body in just seconds for a detailed analysis addressing the three critical factors for health within the body — its information, energy and physiology.

NES ProVision Advanced Analysis Software is a beautifully designed, incredibly comprehensive health assessment tool that probes the human body-field to identify the bio-energetic and bio-informational distortions that may underlie physical, mental or emotional issues.

Your client simply places his or her hand on a scanning device and in moments the software returns more than 150 results about the body and body-field in anatomically-correct and extremely detailed graphical representations that include:

Energetic Analysis: Identify energy blockages in the body's musculoskeletal system.

Nutritional Analysis: Highlight challenges in absorption and metabolic processes and identify sensitivities, malabsorption, and intolerance to certain foods. Provides recommendations on supplementation.

Environmental Analysis: Detect functional damage to the body-field via specific environmental factors, toxins and electromagnetic frequencies and the body's resultant ability to handle their impact when present.

Emotional and Mental Analysis: Identify core emotions, beliefs, and even challenges that are most prominent or potentially problematic. Also identify past shock and trauma that may still be presenting as conflicts or which are stored in the body-field as tissue, cellular or energetic memory.

Body-field Structures, including:

- Energetic Drivers—the fields that power the organs and organ systems
- Energetic Integrators—the channels that regulate information transfer within the body-field and to the body

NES ProVision also identifies the NES miHealth therapy functions, NES Infoceuticals and the NEStrition imprinted food supplements that can best correct body-field distortions and restore the body's own self-healing capacities, providing detailed recommendations for healing protocols as you move into rejuvenating, re-imprinting and rebuilding the body and its bio-field.

NES ProVision –is the only software in the world that can scan and analyze the entire human body-field, including an energetic, nutritional, environmental, and mental/emotional analysis. It also uniquely provides detailed correction protocols so that you can use a single system of approach for both analyzing and correcting client problems and challenges.

NES ProVision

How does NES ProVision work?

The information of the body is a bit like the software of a computer, telling the body's biochemistry how to organize and structure itself. If you have perfectly operating software, your body knows precisely what to do and can repair itself. Essentially the body is able to work off of a blueprint or set of information codes for optimal health and homeostasis.

NES ProVision reads the information of the body by sending the information from our map of the human body-field (via the NES miHealth or with a separate scanning device). Then the software reads the response that comes back to each individual part of the map and determines the level of distortion between the client's body-field and our map of optimal functioning. The entire scan is completed in a few seconds.

Once the scan is completed, the software returns a graphical representation of any located distortions in the body's energy and information, as well as a recommended protocol — including identified NES miHealth therapy functions, NES infoceuticals, and NEStrition supplements you can use.

NES miHealth

Rejuvenate the body's energy with powerful therapies that clear blockages, release trigger points, and correct energy flow through the body.

Simple to use, the NES miHealth is a compact, hand-held, electronic, multi-functional instrument, which can be used both on and off the body to promote better health and wellbeing.

As part of our Total WellNES System, you can use NES miHealth in-office during a client session to release any blockages or trigger points identified during the NES ProVision scan (the software will recommend specific therapy functions).

This prepares the body and its channels for receiving new information and nutritional building blocks via the at-home NES Infoceutical and NEStrition regimen your client will be taking.

NES miHealth

How does NES miHealth work?

The NES miHealth device retrains your body and stimulates healing by communicating specifically with the parts of the body with which it is in contact.

The goal is to get your body's energy flow back to operating with maximum efficiency. Because the body can easily get trained into "patterns" where the energy becomes sluggish or stuck, rejuvenating the body's energy flow is critical — not just to release any stuck pain patterns, but also to clear the way for new information and healing messages that can re-train the body into patterns of health and wellness.

This is why we deliver miHealth therapies to clients before they begin their NES Infoceutical and NEStrition protocols.

In essence, the NES miHealth speaks the human body's language, producing electrical impulses that direct the body to the source location of energy blockages opening up the energetic pathways, stimulating the trigger points and bringing the body back to its natural oscillations and preparing it to receive the new Information from the NES Infoceuticals or NEStrition food supplements.

Another unique feature of the NES miHealth is that you can use each of its functions in both on-body or off-body (broadcast) mode. That way, no matter what unique constellation of issues or problems your client has, you can fully control the intensity of the therapy.

NES Health...

Gives your clients the edge in experiencing ultimate health.

Gives you the edge in delivering ultimate results.

NES Infoceuticals

Re-Imprint optimal functioning and correct distortions in the body's information with our range of liquid remedies imprinted with proprietary bio-information.

Once the body's energy pathways have been cleared and energy flow restored via the NES miHealth, use our easy-to-take Infoceuticals to deliver the precise information that the body needs to reclaim optimal functioning and health.

NES Infoceuticals are liquid remedies that restore integrity to the human body-field. They are purified water containing a minute quantity of plant-derived micro-minerals, which are encoded with information to help return specific aspects of the body-field to proper function.

Designed to be taken at home in an ongoing daily protocol, our entire Infoceutical range allows you to address problems beneath the biochemistry of the body - directly impacting the physics of the body where the physiology and its quality are determined.

Each of our NES Infoceuticals contains pure information. Each one directly corrects specific information structures and energy patterns in the body-field. They can be used while your client is taking any other type of remedy, including homeopathics, pharmaceuticals, herbs and supplements.

"I like the accuracy, the effectiveness and the simplicity, but most of all I like the safety. The safety factor is huge. There are no side effects to the Infoceuticals."

Ron Minson
NES Practitioner

NEStrition

Cleanse, rebuild and restore the body with our carefully balanced food supplements enhanced with bio-information and our unique absorption formula.

As the body begins to repair itself and utilize the new information delivered via the Infoceuticals, it is vital to support the physiological processes by providing the nutritional building blocks required for cleansing, rebuilding and repairing the body.

If your client's body-field and body are not working properly at the level of energy and information, then any dietary supplements they take—including vitamins and herbs—may not be absorbed properly, and they won't benefit from them.

NEStrition is a range of carefully-balanced nutritional supplements made from a synergistic blend of the highest quality ingredients. They contain no chemicals and are made from pure, natural, and where available organic ingredients, including botanicals, enzymes, minerals and vitamins.

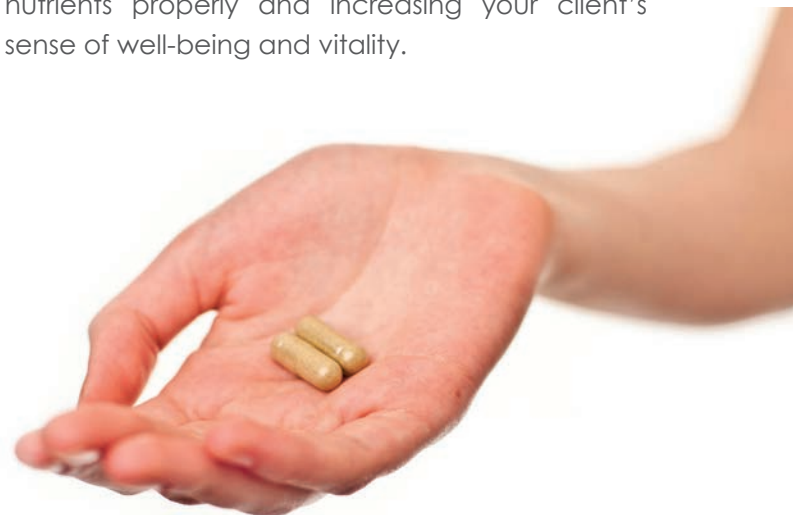

The NEStrition Difference

NEStrition are the only supplements imprinted with corrective bio-information using our proprietary imprinting technology to help correct energy and information distortions at the level of the body-field. They can uniquely direct nutrients to the places in the body where they are precisely needed most, while also clearing any blockages or distortions that would prevent the body from absorbing and utilizing those nutrients.

Because malabsorption seems to be the leading cause of failure in supplement and nutritional therapies, we took extra care to develop and imprint all of our NEStrition supplements with a special Absorption formula, designed and demonstrated to bio-energetically increase absorption, allowing the body to metabolize the nutrients properly and increasing your client's sense of well-being and vitality.

"We integrated NES products with our clients – and have experienced remarkable results."

The Science That Supports Healthcare Innovation

At NES Health, we aim to undertake research that fuels scientific revolution and creates real impact for how we view health and how we can approach reclaiming health for every individual. Because our focus is quantum in nature, it is not currently seen as profitable in the marketplace and, therefore, not undertaken by commercial organizations.

The goal of our research department is to work with external organizations and individuals, or with academic institutions to generate quality scientific evidence that supports the science behind bio-energetic and informational therapy and which demonstrates the efficacy of the Total WellNES System and its range of component health products and overall therapeutic approach.

We are fully committed to R&D with a focus on Clinical Trials and Documented Case Studies. Our research portfolio includes clinical trials, cross-comparison studies and proof-of-concept R&D.

We are actively developing and continuously improving our product range, looking at the efficacy of our products both within our in-house R&D team and collaborating with independent research institutions and academic establishments.

Research Highlights

Accuracy of NES Provision Wellness Assessment Confirmed by Comparison to 3 Independent Energy Assessment Devices.

In a large-scale comparative study carried out by the Centre for Biofield Sciences by Dr. Thornton Streeter, 96.5% of the 240 participants in the control group experienced a positive change, compared to 35% in the placebo group.

The study also demonstrated the efficacy of NES ProVision in identifying energetic distortions, in comparison to the combined abilities of 3 energy measurement devices: PIP (polycontrast interference photography), GDV (gas discharge visualization) and EIS (electro-interstitial scan).

NES miHealth Shows 93% Effectiveness in Outcome Study

In this study of 251 participants, 88% benefited from the NES miHealth therapy at the initial consultation. Additionally, the positive effect on general rejuvenation was compounded on the second and third therapy sessions, with subjects seeing an increasing trend to wellness.

NES Infoceuticals effective in Re-imprinting Leading to an Enhanced Ability to Deal with Stress in Families of Military Personnel.

In this study supervised by renowned energy medicine researcher, Dr Norman Shealy, at Holos University in the USA, NES Infoceuticals were shown to lead to a reduction in depression scores and self-reported stress measures in 54 subjects with immediate members of family in active service in the military.

NEStrition supplement 'Flamese' Increases Well-being for 90% of Participants with Chronic Inflammation.

This double-blind clinical trial researching the efficacy of the NEStrition supplement 'Flamese' in enhancing the quality of life for people with chronic inflammation was carried out in Cuba, under the supervision of Dr. Maritza Mainegra and Dr. Jorge Luis Campistrous Lavaut.

The study showed that Flamese, which helps to cleanse, restore and rebuild the physiology of the body, has a life-enhancing effect with 90% of the participants showing positive results within 30 days.

NES Health

Your True Partners In The Health Of Your Business

NES Health and our Total WellNES System are designed to restore health and maintain wellness for your clients. However we've also taken special care to design our system of care to support you in your practice, to keep you flourishing and expanding. We believe our success is aligned with your success, and by helping practitioner practices grow, we can better ensure global access to health for every individual.

Join the Recognized Leaders of Informational and Next-Level Healthcare

At NES Health we have been global pioneers of informational and bio-energetic medicine for more than a decade now, with an extensive research and development team, unique cutting-edge and proprietary technologies, and unparalleled products that have been demonstrated in clinical trials and double-blind studies to reduce stress and anxiety, as well as to assist the body in restoring health.

Enjoy Freedom & Flexibility Supported By a Complete System of Care

Whether you are a medical doctor, chiropractor, naturopath, nurse, nutritionist, certified massage therapist, acupuncturist and any other types of qualified healthcare practitioner, you can incorporate our complete and integrated Total WellNES System to complement your existing practice. That means you can perform quick and detailed analysis with NES ProVision, which will also return a recommended protocol for therapy using the NES miHealth, NES Infoceuticals and NEStrition.

Go Global. Maintain That Personal Touch

Particularly for specialists who receive patients or clients from all over the world, we have created a variety of therapy offerings and options that allow you to scan and analyze your client's body-field and begin therapy right there in your office... then recommend NES Infoceuticals, as well as NEStrition, for follow-up at home.

This empowers your clients to take ownership of their healing journey while continuing to work with you, and also to reinforce your practice with recurring purchases of Infoceuticals and NEStrition throughout your client's healing process.

Receive Support, Marketing Materials & Training

Once you're a practitioner with NES, we will provide you extensive training in all our products via our online training site, and also with regional live training events and an annual conference.

You will also have access to our printed and digital consumer materials, including marketing brochures, informational pamphlets, consumer newsletters, and more. We will also maintain connection with you through our practitioner hotline where you can always reach us, and our practitioner newsletter. You will also be authorized to use our official NES branding and benefit from our corporate PR and media.

Get New Clients in Our Practitioner Locator

Because our system of healthcare includes cutting-edge technologies and our own theories of biophysics, as well as extensive research, we receive a lot of visitors to our website who are consumers seeking this kind of healing path.

When you join us as a NES Practitioner, you have the option to be listed in our Practitioner Locator so these consumers can easily find you, your area of practice, and your contact information. There is no cost associated with this, and is simply a free option to you as a NES Practitioner.

As you can see, equipping and supporting NES Practitioners is an integral part of our offerings. We make it as easy as possible to integrate our system into your existing practice to maximize the benefits for you and the success of your business.
