

THE PRESENTERS

Bob Grove holds a PhD in Psychology and Medicine, 1972, University of Minnesota; a Post-Doctoral in Physiology, Pharmacology and Psychiatry, Univ. of Chicago Medical School. He is the Founder of Behavior Medicine Unit, Laval University Medical School; Co-Director of Clinical Psycho-physiology Department, VA Sepulveda.

He is in Private Practice and a Medical Unit Consultant for United States, Europe and Japan (1982 - present); Senior Fellow, BCIA; and Co-Founder, ISNR, a brain-behavior organization.

He developed Dysphagia Assessment and Stroke Rehab version in 1995; is Ex-President and current Board Member of Biofeedback Society of California. Currently he is consultant at Loma Linda Dental School and Co-principal at J&J Engineering."

"I have worked with almost every major disability, developing practical biofeedback tools along the way. For example, I have worked with biofeedback for auto-immune disorders with Rheumatologists at UCLA, incontinence with Urologists at Cedars-Sinai Medical Center, developed ElectroGastrography Feedback for GI disorders, and incorporated feedback-assisted desensitization for PTSD in Vietnam Veterans at the VA."

"When I got the first Lexicore Q-EEG instrument in 1990, I added Neurofeedback training for head injury, and went on to found ISNR. I was also a master instructor for BCIA (I'm a Senior Fellow)."

"I had to develop my own tools along the way. This led to a long co-operation with J&J, assisting in the development of an Application Developer Toolkit for earlier versions of J&J's USE program."

Go to www.physiopilot.com to download new software, check out research, articles, downloads, etc.

Gresham Moore, BS, is a graduate of Columbia University and worked in financial and computer industries in the Silicone Valley for a number of years. Gresham has worked in the field of biofeedback for the last 7 years and is savvy with many different instrumentations. He has received as well as assisted with certification trainings as a former employee of Stens and present employee with Bio-Medical Instruments Inc., J & J, and Thought Technology. He asked that you check out BMI's website at www.bio-medical.com.

Dr. Tom Gross is a Board Certified Chiropractic Neurologist. He received his Doctorate in Chiropractic from Parker College of Chiropractic, graduating with Cum Laude honors in January, 1994. He holds Bachelors degrees in Psychology, Anatomy and Human Nutrition. Dr. Gross is a specialist in neurology and brings deep insights into human metabolic biochemistry. He received his training in neurology from the Carrick Institute of Graduate Studies and is a Board Certified Neurologist under the American Chiropractic Neurology Board. He has specialized training in AD/HD and Autistic Spectrum Disorders and Vestibular Rehabilitation and Applied Kinesiology.

Dr. Gross has received specialized training in EEG BF/Neurofeedback and is Board certified in EEG BF/NF from the Biofeedback Certification Institute of America (BCIA). He has received specialized training in Quantitative Electroencephalography (QEEG) and EEG Biofeedback (Neurofeedback) from some of the leaders in this field. He is a member of the International Society for Neuronal Regulation and NCBS.

Dr. Gross is clinical director and attending physician at Mills River Family Chiropractic, PA, in Asheville, NC. He is Clinical Director of ABC Learning Lab, DBA, and founder of the Asheville Clinic for BrainBase, Inc. He is innovator, conceptualist and founder for the Institute for Applied Functional Neuroscience and Applied Functional Neuroscience.

Dr. Gross' website is www.mrchiropractic.com. He is also recognized on the www.brainmeeting.com.

Dr. Paul Michael Ramirez currently enjoys academic appointments as Chairman of the Psychology Department, Professor within the Doctoral Program in Clinical Psychology and Professor within the Graduate Pharmaceutical Sciences Division of the Arnold and Marie Schwartz College of Pharmacy at Long Island University's Brooklyn, NY campus. He teaches Clinical Neuroscience, Psychopharmacology, Psychopathology, Clinical Neuropsychology and Neuropsychological Assessment. Prior to coming to LIU, Dr. Ramirez was on the Psychiatry faculty of the Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons. Dr. Ramirez is also the Chief Executive Officer for the ProPhase Training Group, a company that provides consulting services for the pharmaceutical industry. He received his bachelor's degree in Renaissance/Reformation history from the City University of New York (CUNY), a master's degree in Reading and Learning Disabilities from New York University (NYU), a master's degree in Psychology from the City College of New York, a master's of philosophy degree in Clinical Neuropsychology from CUNY and a doctorate with a specialization in Clinical Neuropsychology and a subspecialization in Psychopathology from CUNY. Dr. Ramirez also completed post doctoral training in Psychopharmacology at Fairleigh Dickinson University.

Susan E. Antelis, MPS, BCIA-C, ATR-BC, LCAT, LMHC is a Diplomate with the American Psychotherapy Association, NYS licensed Mental Health Counselor, and NYS Licensed & Board Certified Creative Arts Therapist. Susan received a Bachelors Degree in Fine Arts, Art Education & Psychology, Brooklyn College, 1973; MASTERS DEGREE in Art Therapy & Creativity Development, Pratt Institute, 1975; and POST-GRADUATE Biofeedback Training, 1981. Susan is a BCIA Certified Senior Fellow since '82

Susan is a Founding/Board Member of Biofeedback & Behavioral Health Practitioners Guild, 2000 and Professional Member of AAPB since 1980. She is Past-President of Biofeedback Society of New York, 96-97; Past-Board Member of AAPB, 2004~2007; Executive Director of Northeast Regional Biofeedback Society, 1998-present; and President of Network Biofeedback Services, Inc. She is also a BCIA Approved biofeedback Supervisor/Mentor for the 100 hour Internship/Mentoring Program.

Susan is president of her own private practice Network Biofeedback Services, Inc. since 1997, and Adjunct Professor of Art Therapy at CW Pos, Long Island University since January '05. She was Director of Biofeedback at the NY College of Wholistic Health, Education & Research. '97-'01. She has served as Biofeedback Therapist as well as provided art therapy and/or counseling in hospitals, day treatment facilities, and medical facilities.

She has a website at www.nybiofeedback.com.

Adele Michal holds a Master of Arts in Counseling Psychology and has been a Coach and Therapist since 1992. She was a Licensed Professional Counselor in Georgia from 2000 to 2005. Adele has extensive training in Language Patterns of Influence, NeuroLinguistic Programming, and other Mind/Body techniques for healing and performance enhancement. She has worked with athletes, students, abuse survivors, cancer patients, and business people to help them reach their goals and achieve comfort emotionally and physically. Today she specializes in helping small business owners and service professionals develop more business for fun and profit.

Adele received Neurofeedback in 1996 for brain trauma and PTSD following a collision with a drunk driver. She credits Neurofeedback with helping her regain executive brain functioning so that she again makes decisions quickly and well.