Dorian Business Systems Seamlessly Integrates SchoolPay with Charms Office Assistant

Madison, WI and Rowlett, TX – May 30, 2012 – My Payment Network, Inc. and Dorian Business Systems today announced their partnership to seamlessly integrate My Payment Network's eCommerce service, SchoolPay, with Dorian Business Systems' Charms Office Assistant in order to increase fundraising, accelerate cash flow, and save school groups countless time in managing the increasing number of payments required to support school programs.

"Charms Office Assistant customers have come to rely on intuitive and non-threatening software. We are happy to now offer our customers an easy-to-use eCommerce solution that deposits their payments directly into their bank accounts", states Michael Baker, Charms Administrator. "SchoolPay, like Charms Office Assistant was built specifically for schools and we're happy to have a partner that understands the unique payment needs of schools and school groups."

David Dunaway, CEO of My Payment Network added, "SchoolPay has become the Go-To solution for large, school districts across the country. However, one of our most proud accomplishments is that non-technical school groups, who often have changing volunteers every year, can instantly understand and use SchoolPay to handle their diverse payment needs."

SchoolPay will be presented at the Charms Office Assistant User Conference in Rowlett, TX on June 24-27.
