

CLASSROOM-READY PODCASTS

Listen and learn in different subject areas, with expert interviews, passionate discussions, probing questions, and entertaining production. Access podcasts online: <https://bit.ly/3d3yyhx>

Elementary to Middle School

Middle to High School

Current Events

KidNuz

Five-minute rundowns of weekday news with nonpartisan kid appeal.

The Ten News

10-minute, biweekly news summaries, delivered with joy, context, and discussions.

Language Arts and Literature

Story Seeds

Diverse authors collaborate with kids to write a story, revealing structure and tools for creative writing along the way.

Book Club for Kids

Tweens and teens discuss a favorite book. Episodes feature celebrity readers and author interviews.

Science

Wow in the World

Zany storytelling about science, technology, and innovation, with hosts Mindy Thomas and Guy Raz.

Tumble

Interesting interviews with scientists on a wide range of scientific topics for children.

Brains On!

Science talk fueled by questions from curious kids. Episodes are cohosted by children who explore answers from experts in humorous, accessible ways.

Show also in Spanish; has covered the coronavirus in-depth.

Individuals and Societies/History

The Past and the Curious

Biographies of famous people and spotlights on unusual historical events. Entertaining episodes are enriched with music and trivia.

This Day in History Class

Daily, short encyclopedic summaries of events from history that happened on the same date.

General

But Why

Honest, interesting, and entertaining answers to kids' questions about anything and everything.

Tai Asks Why

Teen host Tai Poole finds experts to tackle kids' questions on a wide range of topics that explore big ideas.

More

SOCIAL EMOTIONAL LEARNING

Imagine Neighborhood

ART

WhoARTed?
Exploration of artists and art history.

MUSIC

The Music Box
Engaging music education.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE

Mother Tongue
Words, songs and traditions from different languages.

SPORTS

Punies
Audio dramas using sports as a lens for talking about life, created by Kobe Bryant.