When you support Peace with Justice Sunday, your gift becomes a voice for advocacy around the world. Together we are an agent of change that shifts systems of inequality to empower people and communities.

The Amanzi ministry “provides an opportunity for the church members to have conversations with women that they would not be able to have otherwise. In these conversations, members of the church find out about the other needs of the women and help to connect [them] with resources to meet these needs. It is a very caring atmosphere with food and companionship abounding. And, through all of this, the love of Jesus Christ is shared.”

– REV. JAN HOLLOWAY CARWICK, SUPERINTENDENT OF THE NEW ORLEANS DISTRICT, LOUISIANA ANNUAL CONFERENCE, UNITED STATES

“The youth . . . carry the legacies handed to them by elders to the next generation. Therefore, helping them to stay healthy and vibrant is of paramount importance. It is the responsibility of all institutions to offer hope and protect young people from the negative health and welfare consequences of . . . substances.”

– REV. EUNICE MUSA ILIYA, A UNITED METHODIST PASTOR AND FOUNDER/MANAGING DIRECTOR OF THE KAPWA WHOLENESS FOUNDATION, NIGERIA

“In accordance with our Social Principles and Social Creed, we adhere to be the best stewards of God’s creation, practicing environmental justice to our soil, land, water, air and other living things.”

– RUBEN DE GUZMAN, MEN OF GOD PRESIDENT, PHILIPPINES
PLEASE GIVE GENEROUSLY!

Peace with Justice Sunday is one of six Special Sunday offerings in The United Methodist Church. Our gifts support ministries in the annual conference and around the world. This quadrennial we have received $694,542, making it possible to plant new seeds of peace with justice in God’s garden of creation.

For example in Mindanao, part of the Philippines Annual Conference, a group of men is providing a sustainable source of organic, healthy foods for the surrounding community through organic agricultural practices.

In Adamawa State in northeastern Nigeria, the Peace with Justice garden looks like youth who are recovering from substance abuse. Through education and rehabilitation, youth are encouraged to lead healthier lives, while addressing underlying situations that lead to addiction.

The Peace with Justice garden in New Orleans looks like laundry services for women who are experiencing homelessness. The Amanzi Women’s Ministry at Peoples United Methodist Church offers free laundry services, opportunities for spiritual growth, coaching in simple life skills and other educational opportunities. Their children have a safe, fun place to play.

On Peace with Justice Sunday, United Methodists support programs like these. Half of the offering goes to Peace with Justice ministries in the annual conference. The remainder assists the General Board of Church and Society for its Peace with Justice efforts.

Pentecost celebrates the outpouring of the Holy Spirit calling for God’s shalom. Peace with Justice witnesses to God’s demand for a faithful, just, disarmed, and secure world.
