TPX = Transformational Partnership Exchange as East meets West Africa

When African women leaders come together to listen, learn, share, and care; the result is exponential growth. And that is what will happen when east meets west, as Jackie Odhiambo from Kenya, East Africa, meets with Elizabeth Afi and Edna Tackie in West Africa. This TPX (Transformational Partnership Exchange) will be an intentional investment of Women in the Window into all three of these ministry partners. We are about to see the catalytic exponential growth of this exchange as they come together in August and focus on micro-business and soap-making projects specifically. Pray for God to multiply the impact as WiW invests in these excellent
