

Contact:

Tina Thomas, Executive Director
Source: Association for the Advancement of Wound Care
83 General Warren Boulevard
Suite 100
Malvern, PA 19355
Ph: 800.237.7285, ext. 223

Association for the Advancement of Wound Care's Speakers Bureau Offers Qualified Presenters for Numerous Types of Events

Malvern, PA, August 12, 2013

The Association for the Advancement of Wound Care (AAWC) is dedicated to bringing the best in wound and skin care education to your organization's conventions, conferences, corporate events, classrooms, career fairs, in-services, school assemblies and more. AAWC holds a select, growing Directory of Experts from diverse fields of healthcare. Our experienced team of medical professionals provides excellence in wound care and related education, clinical practice, public policy, and research. From wound care basics to the most challenging of topics, each delivers a message tailored to your needs. Also, while members of the bureau have varied areas of expertise in wound prevention and management, many of our members are suitable to present an inspirational story.

Clients requiring speakers are usually healthcare conference organizers, regional meeting planners or corporations, but also may include hospitals and other medical facilities, institutions of higher learning, K-12 schools and media personnel. There is no cost to search our directory or to apply for a speaker. Speakers and clients are connected via the application process. Thereafter, logistical and financial arrangements

(if applicable) are made between speaker and client. Please visit <http://aawconline.org/wound-care-speakers-available/> to view the available speakers and get connected to the expert of your choice.

To become involved with the AAWC Speaker Bureau, one must be an AAWC member in good standing, be accepted via application, and follow the full terms and conditions of the program. If you are interested in becoming a member of the AAWC Speakers Bureau, please join AAWC and then apply to the program.

ABOUT AAWC - AAWC is the largest, not-for-profit membership organization in the United States dedicated to supporting the research and clinical application of evidence-based wound care. As the leader in interdisciplinary wound healing and tissue preservation, AAWC offers membership and accompanying benefits to everyone involved in wound care, including healthcare professionals, patients, lay-caregivers, clinics/facilities, corporations, students, retirees, and advocates.