Frosty Passage:

When a Heart Starts to Freeze:
1 Samuel 15:1-29

The Story So Far:

In 1 Samuel 15, Samuel reminded Saul that his most important job as king was to listen to God and obey Him. God told Saul to bring judgment on the Amalekites for the way they had attacked God's people in the past. Saul was commanded to completely destroy everything that belonged to them and not keep anything for himself. Saul and his army attacked the Amalekites, but Saul only obeyed part of what God had told him to do. He spared the Amalekite king and kept the best animals instead of destroying them. Because Saul had disobeyed, God was grieved that Saul had turned away from following Him. Samuel was very sad and cried out to the Lord all night. The next day, Samuel went to find Saul and discovered that Saul had set up a monument to honor himself instead of honoring God.

When Saul met Samuel, he claimed that he had obeyed God. But Samuel knew this was not true. Samuel told Saul that because he had rejected God's command, God would remove him as king and choose another leader. Saul had been chosen by God to be king, but he chose not to obey. This reminds us that God wants us to obey Him completely, not just part of the time. When God gives us instructions, we can choose to follow His way.
