Questions for Reflection

1. Why is it unlikely that the disciples made up this story? If you were going to make up a story about being there when Jesus calmed a storm, how would you tell it?
2. Is it possible to show genuine respect (calling him teacher) and disrespect (accusing him of indifference) at the same time?
3. Are you encouraged to see that the disciples who are with Jesus when he was on earth were slow to fully understand who he was?
4. How is it comforting to know that Jesus, in his sovereignty, led the disciples into this predicament? What situations in your own life do you find similarities?

MINISTRIES

To be the hands and feet of Jesus

MS Disaster Continues: "Thank you again to those who worked this past weekend in Rolling Fork and to those who contributed $700 for supplies we distributed. The effort has been amazingly well organized by Samaritan's Purse, simple to participate in, and easy to get to. If you have never helped post-disaster, you should consider this before they pack up and head to the next disaster on or before April 15. You may contact me Blaine Totty, the older, 601.988.5885, totty1b@gmail.com if you want to discuss it, otherwise go online at <https://www.spvolunteer.org/project-response/663> and click on "Respond Now" to begin registration by creating an account. You can even work a half day (12:30 to 4:30). Please let me know if you take steps to go so I can pass that along to others planning the same. Meanwhile, I'll be looking into helping at Amory."
