

A dark, atmospheric photograph of a prison cell. A barred window at the top center allows light to stream in, creating a hazy, ethereal glow. The walls are made of dark, textured stone or concrete. On the right wall, a metal keyhole is visible, with a chain hanging from it. The overall mood is somber and mysterious.

UNBREAKABLE

Key

The Gospel is what gives us

JOY

in every circumstance.

What does living out the Gospel look like?

1. Purposed (vv. 12-18)

It's not enough to "choose" joy. It is a sanctifying work of God in our hearts (John 17:13-19).

1. Purposed Perspective (vv. 12-18)

It's not enough to "choose" joy. It is a sanctifying work of God in our hearts (John 17:13-19).

A photograph of a prison cell. A window with vertical bars is at the top center, through which a bright beam of light shines down onto the floor. The walls are dark and textured. The floor is also dark, with some light reflecting off it.

*"If you give it to God, He transforms your test into a testimony, your mess into a message,
and your misery into a ministry."*

Warren, Rick. The Purpose Driven Life. Zondervan, 2002.

1. Purposed Perspective (vv. 12-18)

It's not enough to "choose" joy. It is a sanctifying work of God in our hearts (John 17:13-19).

2. _____ in Hardship (vv. 19-26)

A dark, atmospheric photograph of a prison cell. The walls are made of dark, textured stone or concrete. In the upper right corner, there is a small window with vertical bars. A bright beam of light enters from the window, creating a strong contrast and illuminating the floor and part of the wall. The overall mood is somber and confined.

1. Purposed Perspective (vv. 12-18)

It's not enough to "choose" joy. It is a sanctifying work of God in our hearts (John 17:13-19).

2. Hope in Hardship (vv. 19-26)

1. Purposed Perspective (vv. 12-18)

It's not enough to "choose" joy. It is a sanctifying work of God in our hearts (John 17:13-19).

2. Hope in Hardship (vv. 19-26)

3. Clear _____ (vv. 27-30)

Behavior – driven lives won't bring the same result as a grace-driven life

1. Purposed Perspective (vv. 12-18)

It's not enough to "choose" joy. It is a sanctifying work of God in our hearts (John 17:13-19).

2. Hope in Hardship (vv. 19-26)

3. Clear conviction (vv. 27-30)

Behavior – driven lives won't bring the same result as a grace-driven life

The Gospel is what gives us

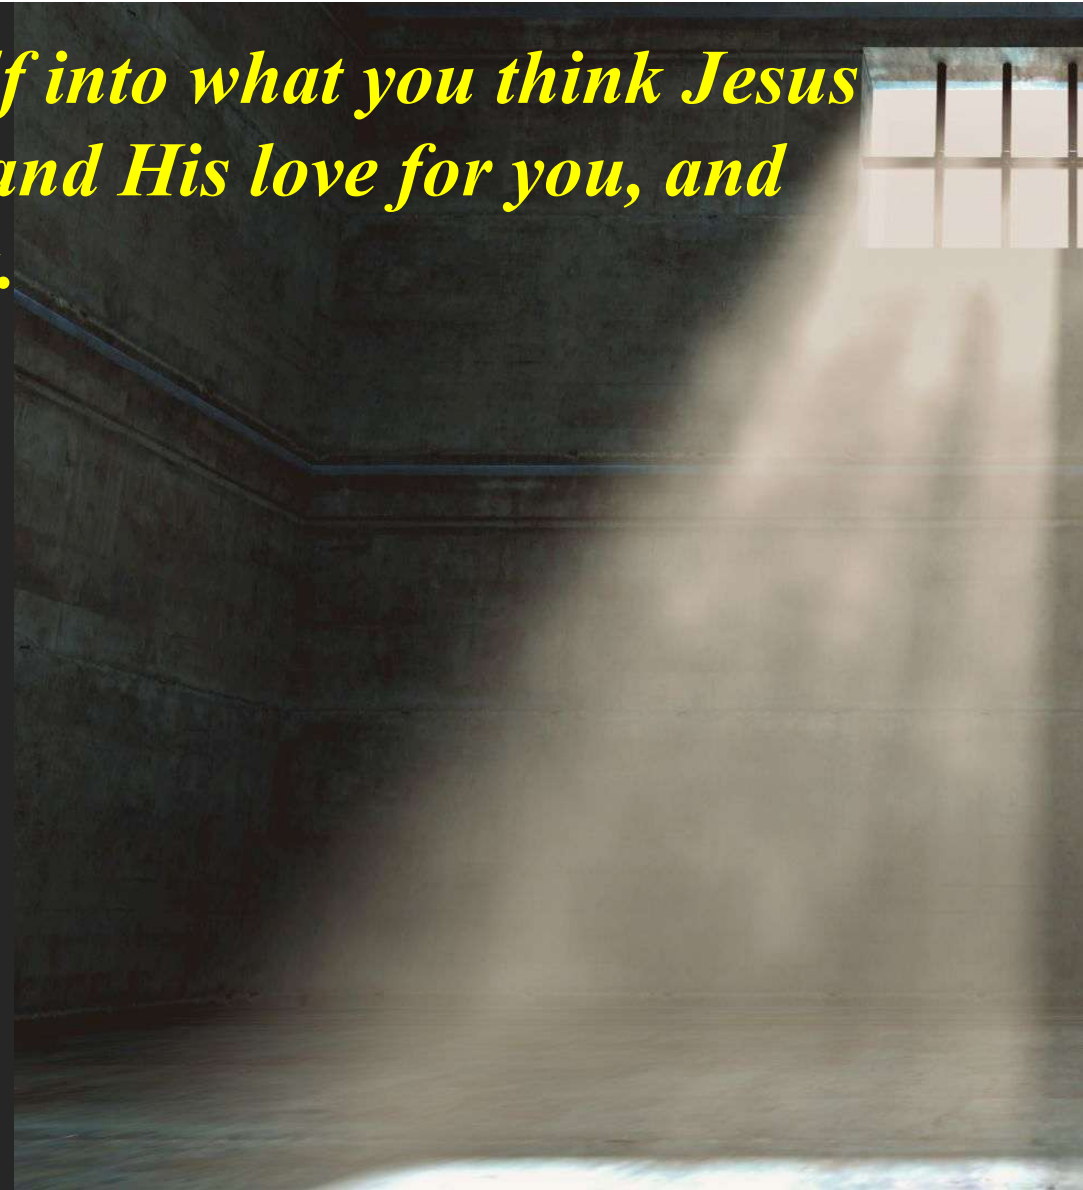

JOY

in every circumstance.

A dark, atmospheric photograph of a prison cell. A barred window at the top center allows a beam of light to stream down, illuminating the floor and creating a dramatic contrast with the surrounding shadows. The walls are made of dark, textured stone or concrete. A chain is visible on the right wall.

Let's Apply It!

Instead of trying to turn yourself into what you think Jesus wants you to be, seek Him first and His love for you, and then let Him work in your heart.

A dark, atmospheric photograph of a prison cell. The scene is dimly lit, with a bright light source from a barred window on the right, creating a strong contrast and casting long shadows. The walls are dark and textured, and the floor is also dark. The overall mood is somber and confined.

Instead of trying to turn yourself into what you think Jesus wants you to be, seek Him first and His love for you, and then let Him work in your heart.

Why is it so easy to let life's circumstances dictate my attitude and responses? Seek the joy that can be found in all circumstances.

Instead of trying to turn yourself into what you think Jesus wants you to be, seek Him first and His love for you, and then let Him work in your heart.

Why is it so easy to let life's circumstances dictate my attitude and responses? Seek the joy that can be found in all circumstances.

Need a perspective change? Only true gratitude for the Gospel can truly change your perspective on life.

Instead of trying to turn yourself into what you think Jesus wants you to be, seek Him first and His love for you, and then let Him work in your heart.

Why is it so easy to let life's circumstances dictate my attitude and responses? Seek the joy that can be found in all circumstances.

Need a perspective change? Only true gratitude for the Gospel can truly change your perspective on life.

Let's determine to be people who cling to Christ's Gospel. Let it radically change our hearts and let people see Christ's love through us!

The Gospel is what gives us

JOY

in every circumstance.