SHEPHERD GUIDE

Like many projects, rebuilding the temple began with enthusiasm and purpose, but eventually the work stopped. Upon their return from exile, God's people were excited about rebuilding the temple and having a place to worship their God. Eventually their passion for rebuilding diminished due to the opposition they faced from their enemies. Instead, the people turned their efforts to work on their own dwellings.

God used the prophet Haggai to remind His people of the importance of rebuilding the temple. Specifically, the prophet asked the people why their houses were completed and adorned beautifully when the house of the Lord lay in ruins. Because of the encouragement of the prophet, the people returned to rebuilding the temple. This time, they would persevere through all of the challenges to complete the rebuild.

So why was the rebuilding of the temple so important for the people of God who had returned from exile? For them, the temple was the place where the presence of God dwelt among them. Following the Exodus, God's manifest presence was experienced by His people in a number of ways. He dwelt with His people in the cloud and fire that guided and protected the Israelites on their journey. He dwelt with His people in a movable tabernacle where they were able to worship. And eventually, God dwelt with His people in Solomon's temple in Jerusalem. When the temple was destroyed, it was symbolic of God removing His presence from His people. When God's people returned, the rebuilding of the temple demonstrated God was with His people, inviting them to return to Him in prayer and worship (2 Chronicles 6:36-39).

Today, we are reminded that our God does not dwell in a house made by the hands of people. When Jesus died on the cross, a symbolic act occurred in the temple. At the moment of Jesus' death, the curtain in the temple that separated the people from God's presence split from top to bottom. The splitting of the curtain demonstrated our new reality that Jesus' death and victory over sin and the grave gives us direct access to the Father. Remind kids that God desires to be with them, and through faith in Christ, believers are promised His presence forever.

REMINDER: Our VIP meeting is from 8:30-8:40 in C1. Your supply bin will be in your classroom.

MAIN TAKEAWAYS: We want our kids to:

- *KNOW that God alone is worthy of our honor and worship.
- TRUST God even when things are hard.
- *RELY on God's strength instead of their own when they face challenges.

As children arrive - Welcome them by name and invite them to play with you and the other children. Use this time to get to know your kids - ask them about their week, about their likes and dislikes and about their school, family and friends.

Ways to connect - Play a game from the closet, color or draw together, build with legos/blocks, etc.

When most kids have arrived for first service (by 9:05ish), ask them to clean up the toys and find a seat at one of the tables to begin the class.

WELCOME

Rebuild the Temple

- Activity page
- pencils
- markers

Have you ever had something break and you needed to fix it?

What was it?

How did you fix it?

Invite kids to complete the "Rebuild the Temple" activity page.

Your temple drawings look great! Today, we will learn how God's people continued to rebuild the temple in Jerusalem.

STARTER

Working Together

- Blindfolds
- Solo cups

Invite three or four volunteers to sit before the group either at a table or on the floor. Place a blindfold on each kid. Then provide the kids with a stack of solo cups. Challenge the kids to work together to create a tower by stacking the cups.... blindfolded!

Invite the remaining kids to offer help by instructing the kids how and where to place the cups. Allow the kids 30-45 seconds to create the tower. Then remove the blindfolds so they can see how they did. Repeat, inviting a new group of kids to create a tower.

SAY: What was the most challenging part of building the tower? [Allow responses.] While challenging at times, you all showed that by working together and following instructions you were able to create the tower. Today, we will learn that God's people were working to rebuild the temple. But as they did, they also faced challenges. However, we'll see that when they trusted God, obeyed Him, and worked together, they were able to rebuild the temple.

STORYTELLING OPTIONS / TIPS:

Active listening: Encourage kids to make a sad face each time God's enemies try to stop the people and clap each time God makes a way for His people to keep rebuilding.

Active listening: Tell the kids to place one fist on top of the other. Any time you say the words "rebuild" or "build" they can reverse their fists with a pounding motion.

When God's enemies who lived in Judah heard that the people of God had returned and were rebuilding the temple of the Lord, they decided to stop them.

They wrote a letter to Artaxerxes (ahr tuh ZUHRK seez), king of Persia. The letter said, "Let it be known to the king that the Jews who traveled from your nation have returned to Jerusalem. They are rebuilding the city, finishing its walls, and repairing its foundations. We are loyal to the king, and believe that once the city is finished, the people will not pay taxes to you anymore. Search your record books, and you will discover that the city is rebellious and harmful to you."

The king replied, "I searched our records and discovered that this city has rebelled against kings in the past. Therefore, I order the people to stop building the city until another decree from me." The people stopped rebuilding the temple until King Darius became king of Persia.

God sent the prophet Haggai to speak His words to the people. The Lord said through Haggai, "Is it time for you to live in a nice house, while the house of God lies in ruins? Think carefully of your ways. Rebuild my house, and then I will send rain for the crops and help you prosper. Work, for I am with you! I promise that this temple will one day have more glory than the one that came before!"

The people obeyed and started to build again. Then Tattenai, the governor of the region, said, "Who gave you the order to rebuild this temple?" Tattenai sent a letter to King Darius that said, "Let it be known to the king that the people of God are once again rebuilding the temple. When I asked them why they were rebuilding, they told me that many years ago, King Cyrus issued an order to rebuild the temple of God. He also gave us the gold and silver that had been taken from the first temple. We have been rebuilding the temple from that time until now."

King Darius searched his royal records and found the order from King Cyrus. He knew the people were telling the truth. He issued a new law: "Leave the people of God alone, and let them rebuild the temple. In addition, you are to use all the tax money from that region to pay for everything that is needed to rebuild the temple. If anyone interferes with this order, they will be punished."

The people finished the temple and had a great celebration. They resumed the worship of God at the temple and celebrated the Passover and the Festival of Unleavened Bread. The people were glad and rejoiced in God.

CHRIST CONNECTION

God's people rebuilt the temple so they would have a place to worship God. Years later, God sent His Son, Jesus, to be with His people. Jesus provides something better than the temple; He gives us Himself.

REVIEW AND DISCUSS

Allow time to have the children think and process - however this works best for your class. We want our kids to feel known and heard!

Blank paper, Bible
Story coloring
page, colored
pencils/crayons

In small groups (or as a large group), use the coloring page (on the other side of the worksheet) and have children color while you talk through these questions.

The plans to rebuild the temple came to a sudden stop when God's enemies wrote a letter to the king. Can you remember what King Artaxerxes did when he received the letter? [Allow responses.] King Artaxerxes ordered God's people to stop building the temple. For sixteen years no one worked on the temple. But even when it looked like the temple would not be completed, God's plans cannot be stopped. God was working in His perfect timing.

Who was the prophet God sent to His people, and what did he say? [Allow responses.] God instructed Haggai to remind the people to obey Him and keep rebuilding the temple! God had protected His people from other kings and rulers, and He protected His people from those who tried to stop them from finishing the temple. Maybe you have felt like giving up because something was too hard or you didn't understand how God was working. Sometimes we all need a little encouragement. We can be comforted with the truth that even when things are difficult, God is with His people and His plans will never fail.

Why were God's people able to continue rebuilding the temple? [Allow responses.] King Darius discovered that King Cyrus had given an order to rebuild the temple many years before. God had provided the way for the temple to be finished years before! Our God is able to use people, both mighty and small, to accomplish His plans. God's people rebuilt the temple to worship Him. God calls us to worship Him, and we don't need a temple to worship God. God sent His Son, Jesus, to be with His people. Jesus provides something better than the temple; He gives us Himself. Anyone who trusts in Jesus can worship God anytime or any place because His Spirit lives in us.

Reflection and Prayer

Have children use a blank sheet of paper. Ask the kids to write about or draw a picture to answer the following questions. Or, just talk about it together.

- What does this story teach me about God?

That God is worthy of all our honor and worship. God's plans cannot be stopped - He is over all things. God gives us strength to do hard things.

- What does this story teach me about myself?

That I can trust God to help me and give me strength when I am frustrated or scared.

Can you think of a time when you faced something hard and felt God giving you strength to get through it? Why do you think God wants us to rely on His strength instead of our own when we face challenges?

Guide kids to think about their time at home, school, and with friends, and give examples of how God has helped them do difficult things. Examples may include getting along with a difficult sibling, doing chores even when they don't feel like it, forgiving a friend when they have said something hurtful, or telling the truth about something they've done wrong even if it means they might get in trouble. Help kids see that God's strength never runs out, and He will supply us with everything we need.

Questions from Kids Video

USB on TV

Show the "Unit 16, Session 5" questions from kids video. Prompt kids to discuss:

- How do we know if we have the Holy Spirit of God in us?
- Through the Holy Spirit, we can worship God anywhere. How do you worship God, no matter where you are?

ENGAGE HEARTS

Show the key passage poster. Lead kids in reading aloud Isaiah 25:9 together.

Key Passage Activity:

Hot Seat Bible Memory Verse

- Key Passage Poster
- Slips of paper with words from verse
- Tape

SAY: God's people had to wait to rebuild the temple, and they had to wait for His promised salvation. We can rejoice because God has fulfilled His promise through Jesus Christ. Let's work on learning our key passage which reminds us of the promised salvation we have through Jesus.

*Before the start of class - tape a word or phrase under random chairs in the classroom.

Ask the children to look under their chairs to see if they are sitting in one of the "hot seats" – a chair that has a word under it.

Whoever finds a word under their chair brings it to the front. The kids must arrange themselves in line, each holding up their word, so that the words are in the correct order.

Unroll the Scroll

- Paper scrolls
- Markers

Pass out the paper scrolls and markers to groups of four children.

Write the story point on the dry erase board - “God’s people rebuilt the temple to worship Him.”

Have each team open up their scroll and read the story point out loud. Then, using their markers, have them work together to write or draw ways we can worship God in our everyday lives - praying, singing songs, serving others, listening to His Word and doing what it says, obeying our parents/teachers/etc....

Have the kids share their ideas with the class. Then, have them write or draw the reasons why we worship God - He is Holy, He keeps His promises, He loves us, He protects us, He listens and cares for us, etc.

Have them share their ideas with the class.

SAY: God was always in charge, and He provided for His people. The temple was rebuilt to worship God. God is always worthy of worship. God is still in charge today and He still provides for His people - for us! We can worship God in many ways as a way of saying “thank you” for loving us and for always keeping His promises.

Obey the Light

- None

Instruct kids to line up on the opposite side of the room from you. Explain that you are going to call out a light color, and the kids will move toward you accordingly.

- Green means walk, yellow means walk in slow motion, and red means stop.

If any of the kids are still moving when you say “red light,” they must go back to the starting line. The first kid to reach the finish line wins. Consider adding in additional light colors, such as purple means hop or orange means crawl.

For additional rounds, invite kids to call out the lights.

SAY: During this game, you had moments when you had to stop and not go forward. God’s people had to stop a lot as their enemies tried to prevent them from rebuilding the temple. But God made a way for them to finish the temple. His plans can never be stopped! God’s people rebuilt the temple to worship Him. Through Jesus, God has made the way for us to be saved and worship Him forever.
