GATEKEEPERS SECURITY SERVICES™

Gatekeeper Program

Securing Your Private School

There are few options when it comes to armed "Private School Security Teams" in Texas.

- Hire local law enforcement to provide security. Cost is average $45 per hour. The primary liability falls on the local government.
- Hire a local contract security provider. Cost is average $30 per hour. The primary liability falls on the security provider commercial insurance.
- Have the school operate under a "Letter of Authority" where the school becomes a private security company. The process involves having an experienced and qualified manager, testing, company fees, licenses and salaries. Also add the cost of commercial armed guard liability and workman's comp insurance.

Join the Gatekeeper Program™

- Training and licensing is $920 per person. On-going cost is $485 per month per person. The primary liability falls on Gatekeepers and their armed guard insurance.
- Obviously the most cost effective option is the Gatekeeper Program™.

Legal Liability

In this litigious society we live in today; liability is at the top of the concerns of all people. Imagine the damage a single mistake could cost your school. Think of the repercussions. If your security team should be responsible for the injury or death of an innocent person, were to be guilty of assault, false arrest or wrongful death.

Through the "Gatekeeper Program™" your qualified staff go through the same curriculum taught to professional private security by certified and state licensed private security instructors, background checked by the F.B.I. and must pass a psychological test.

THE PATH:

Becoming a Gatekeeper

Upon acceptance into the program Gatekeepers will train their candidates through our state licensed school - The Christian Security Institute located in the DFW area.

After training and testing the candidates are licensed under Gatekeepers Security Services™ (a class B security services company) as Level 4 - Personal Protection Officers.

State Private Security Licensing

Texas state security regulations provide several levels of licensing of security officers:

Non-Commissioned Security Officer | Level 2

- A level two officer is an unarmed and uniformed security guard. This is the usual type of officer seen at malls and office building. The training is mostly in the understanding of the private security statutes and rules and the understanding of the principles of observe and report, detect and deter.

Commissioned Security Officer | Level 3

- A level three officer in an armed (clearly visible/unconcealed) and uniformed security guard. Additional firearms and use of force training.

Personal Protection Officer | Level 4

- A level four officer is an armed (concealed carry) and plain clothed officer assign to protect a person or persons. Additional training in defensive tactics and personal protection of a third party.
