JAMES 4-5

James cared about the people in the churches. James wanted the people to understand how to live in a way that pleased God and obey what the Bible teaches. James told the church friends to think about God and ask Him to help them know the right things to do.

James reminded the people about prayer. James said, "Sometimes people ask for selfish things rather than what God wants for them." James told the people to think about God and obey Him.

James helped the church people think about the importance of talking to God about other people. James said if anyone is sick or sad or not doing what is right, we should pray for that person. James said, "Remember Elijah. He prayed and prayed and prayed for three long years. He never stopped praying. And God heard Elijah and helped him."

James also told the people not to talk about their families and others in mean ways. God is the one who knows what is right. He knows the people who do what is wrong. James said, "It is wrong not to do what is good. Help one another know what is right."
