The Brookland Baptist Church is located at 1066 Sunset Boulevard, West Columbia, SC 29169 and 1203 Summit Parkway, Columbia, SC 29229.

The mission of the Brookland Baptist Church is to proclaim the gospel of Jesus Christ through Evangelism, Education and Economic Empowerment.

THE PASTOR'S PEN

Since its inception, the Brookland-Lakeview Empowerment Center (BLEC) has remained a diligent and dedicated organization with a plethora of programs and activities designed to improve the quality of life for youth and adults of all ages throughout the Midlands of South Carolina.

There is no doubt that the success of BLEC has been fueled by the combined effort of Reverend Dr. Charles B. Jackson Sr., senior pastor of Brookland Baptist Church, the BLEC Board of Directors and its committed and dynamic BLEC staff of professionals. They have garnered admiration, respect and confidence from the vast number of participants in the various BLEC programs.

BLEC is most proud of a recent milestone, the Lakeview School obtaining placement on the National Register of Historic Places. Lakeview School gained the designation as a result of its significant role during pernicious segregation of public education in South Carolina.

It is gratifying that BLEC programs across the board are receiving rave reviews for their proven effectiveness, including its Diabetes Intervention Program, 21st Century COLA Afterschool and Summer Camp Programs, Youth and Teens Athletic Program, Mentoring and Tutoring Program, Community Gardens and Food Production Programs, Mental Health Awareness Training Initiative, AARP Technology Classes, and Farmer's Market Nutrition Program, to name a few.

As one example, BLEC's Diabetes Intervention Program is a free family program open to residents of Lexington and Richland counties where enrollees speak to diabetes experts and learn how to eat healthy, get active and lower stress in a span of seven months.

Currently under way is BLEC's free summer 21st Century COLA Program for Northside Middle and East Point Middle Campus students and rising sixth graders from Saluda River, Riverbanks Elementary and East Point Lower Campus. In this program, participants are served breakfast, lunch and snacks, engaged in character building and academic enrichment activities.

With a growing network of supporters, including corporate and individual donors, we strongly believe that BLEC has a bright and promising future. We are excited about the opportunity to make a difference in the communities served by BLEC. With the mission and vision of BLEC guiding our action, we invite all those who feel an obligation and civic responsibility to help improve the human condition to join our effort.

For more information about the BLEC, please visit the website at www.brooklandlakeview.org or contact the executive director at crichburgcotton@brookland.cc.

LAKEVIEW SCHOOL GETS HISTORICAL MARKER ON NATIONAL REGISTER

The Lakeview School has been placed on the National Register of Historic Places, culminating the collected efforts and foresight of many, including Reverend Dr. Charles B. Jackson Sr., senior pastor of Brookland Baptist Church, and the Brookland-Lakeview Empowerment Center (BLEC) Board of Directors as well as the center's dedicated and devoted staff.

The overwhelming theme for the milestone unveiling of the marker was passionate love and pleasant memory regarding the school's purpose during a pivotal period in secondary education in South Carolina.

Though the building no longer serves its original purpose, it now houses BLEC, which has been praised as a compelling facility and resource for enhancing the quality of life for residents in Lexington and Richland counties and others living in the Midlands of South Carolina. Built in 1949 and enlarged and updated between 1952 and 1961 with funds from the state's equalization program, Lakeview School holds the distinction of having been the only high school for Black residents of Lexington County's Brookland-Cayce School District and being the only historically segregated Black school in West Columbia. The Lakeview School closed in 1968 when desegregation took its hold on public education in South Carolina.

United States Representative James E. Clyburn, who represents the Sixth Congressional District, used the occasion to emphasize the need for historical markers across the state as a reminder of the key role high schools played in the holistic educational development of African Americans during and beyond segregation.

He said, "We need to get markers like this done all over South Carolina so the children who walk down these streets and play on this ground will look at these markers, see a name, and identify with that name. That's what will make them know not just who they are but what they can be."

Representative Joe Wilson, who represents the Second Congressional District, echoed the sentiments of his elected counterpart.

"This is a tremendous accomplishment and all those involved should be commended for doing the right thing," he said.

Reverend Jackson, whose forward thinking became the impetus for the establishment of BLEC, was effusive in his praise of those involved in promoting the mission and vision of the community-based entity.

"There were many who helped us along the way and enabled us to get to this point," he said. "But the best is yet to come."
