What are the characteristics of the church and community?

National Korean UMC is a Korean ministries congregation with worship and other ministries offered primarily in Korean, with some ministries for young people offered in English. The congregation primarily draws from the Korean immigrant community in Montgomery County (itself growing increasingly diverse), but also surrounding areas and as far as Virginia. The congregation identifies as traditional, and considers its three key strengths to be worship (preaching), fellowship and discipleship. The congregation has gifted and skilled laity serving in leadership, and offers a number of small groups.

What is the vision for the next 3-5 years?

1. Family Ministry (Regular Family Devotion Time)
2. Evangelism
3. Small Group Ministry

What are the expectations of the pastor?

1. A strong calling for nurturing the next generation.
2. A traditional view on human sexuality.
3. Communicates well in English with younger generations and is skilled in Korean preaching.
4. Understands Korean immigrant life and has experience leading a Korean congregation.
