ANOINTING OF THE SICK

The Catechism of the Catholic Church (#1514-1515) teaches that this sacrament is not only for those at the point of death, but for anyone seriously ill or facing serious surgery. In fact, it is preferred that parishioners entering the hospital for surgery should ask the priest for this sacrament before being admitted. Parishioners should never wait until the last minute to call. We encourage parishioners facing surgery to let the parish priest know of their condition before entering the hospital so that they can be anointed before admission.

SUNDAY'S READINGS

First Reading

Humble yourself and you will find favor with God. (Sirach 3:17-18,20,28-29)

Psalm

The just rejoice and exult before God. (Psalm 68:4-7,10-11)

Second Reading

You have approached Mount Zion and the city of the living God, the heavenly Jerusalem. (Hebrews 12:18-19,22-24)

Gospel

When you hold a banquet, invite the poor, the crippled, the lame, and the blind. (Luke 14:1,7-14)

Shepherd's Corner

I am the good shepherd, and I know mine and mine know me

Do I want to sit in the front of the church or the back? That was a question I used to ask myself as I was growing up. Since Good Shepherd is built "in the round," I'm not sure if that question ever plagued you like it did me.

My family, like many of us, were creatures of habit. When we went to Mass, we would tend to sit in the same pew; about 6 pews from the front on "Mary's side" of the church, next to the window. Let me just say I didn't mind sitting up front and by that window on summer days. Back then, our church wasn't air conditioned. However, I would have second thoughts about sitting up front whenever I heard today's Gospel. Jesus told the people not to sit in the front, which were places of honor, because if someone greater than you came in, you may be asked to move to the back of the room. I started to wonder if Jesus was going to make us move to the back of the kingdom of heaven because we were sitting in the front of the church. Ah, the thinking of a child.

As I grew older and went to church by myself, I used this passage as an excuse to sit in the back. I told myself, maybe Jesus would invite me to sit closer to him in heaven. Truth be told, looking back, it was probably so that I was closer to the door when Mass was over so I could be one of the first ones to leave. I'm glad that nobody here would have those same thoughts.

In Jesus' time, the rich, who had various titles and were prominent members of the community, would have places of honor in the front. Everyone else would have to stand in the back. Jesus is telling the people that God doesn't see things the way we see them. God sees the hearts of people, not bank accounts or educational degrees. He knows why we come to church, pray, fast, give alms, or partake in various ministries. He knows if we do it to win the respect or acceptance of others, or if we do it because we recognize all He's done for us and want to say "thank you" to Him.

I'll be honest, there were times (many, in fact) when I went to church just because "I had to." After all, it was my Sunday obligation! There were even times when I found church boring. But through the grace of God, something within me changed. I don't know exactly what or when it happened, but I started to see God first as friend, then as judge. Maybe the seeds that were planted by my parents and those Franciscan Sisters started to grow and I started to put things into a different perspective. I realized that there were times I did things with my friends that I really didn't want to do, but I did them because we were friends. For example, I knew that playing Trivial Pursuit with friends who had PhD degrees left me very little chance of winning. But I played it anyway because it was nice spending time with them.

I guess I started to think in a similar way about things I was doing for God. I began to go to Mass with a different attitude and spirit, seeing Mass as a relationship with God, not just as an obligation. The more I focused on God and the things he did for me, the more my love for God and the Church grew. God knew I wasn't perfect. He knew that, at times, my mind wandered, but He also knew my heart.

So, in a moment of silence I ask you to reflect on why you come to church, give to the collections, or volunteer in a ministry. Is it out of a relationship with God and what He's done for you, or more of an obligation?

Peace and Blessings,
Fr. Mike
