

Questions

1. Read Isaiah 63:7. Personalize and paraphrase it by recounting what the Lord has done for you?
2. What does Isaiah 63:9 say about God's attitude as He disciplines His people?
3. From 63:15 through 64:12, we read Isaiah lamenting and interceding. He's asking questions of God, voicing His sorrows, and even complaining, while maintaining a posture of trust in the Lord. Have there been times of lament in your life? How has the Lord grown you in those seasons?
4. Read Philippians 2:12-13. How is our growth in Christ – our sanctification – a cooperative process between us and God?
5. How does God's description of eternity in Isaiah 65:17-25 impact our living today? What weight does it add to the prior warnings and appeals?
6. Read Isaiah 66:2b. Does this describe you? Why or why not?

After each service, if you need prayer, someone will be available up front to pray with or for you.

The One to Whom I Look

Isaiah 63:7 – 66:24

Doug Sachtleben, Lead Pastor
February 12, 2023

We close Isaiah with a series of final warnings and appeals from our Creator. They are backed up by His promise that this world will come to an end and He will create new heavens and a new. Therefore, what you do with the Lord's warnings and exhortations will matter for all of eternity.

1. Recounting the works of the Lord (63:7-14)

2. Lamenting and Interceding (63:15 – 64:12)
3. God offers Himself to Gentiles and Jews (65:1-3)
4. Warnings of judgment, promises of hope (65:6-16)
5. Responding to God's Word matters for eternity (65:17-25; 66:22-23)
6. Whom does God regard (66:2)
7. The nations stream to God's kingdom (66:18-21)
