Are you looking forward to learning more?

At the close today, I shared a little of my story – when I first noticed a boy and how I grew in my understanding ...

I asked some questions at the end of the message. Discuss them in your group – get to know each other's stories (keep it simple and appropriate):

How about you? Did you or do you dream about marriage? If you are married, is it all that you thought it would be?

What's your story?

How did you learn?

What did you learn?

Did you know and understand everything about love?

Where did you get your information – from your parents? From your peers? From the movies and television? From the Bible?

Are you willing to learn God's heart in this area of your life?
