

MIDDLE MICHIGAN
DEVELOPMENT CORPORATION

2025 ANNUAL REPORT

Letter from the President & CEO

As we look back on another year of progress in Clare, Isabella, and Osceola counties, all of us at Middle Michigan Development Corporation (MMDC) want to extend our heartfelt appreciation for your continued support and partnership. Your investment is not only helping local businesses grow – it's strengthening the very foundation of our communities.

Economic development is more than a service; it's an investment in the future vitality of our region. When businesses thrive, so do the schools, families, and neighborhoods that surround them. Every expansion project, job created, and entrepreneur supported through MMDC generates ripple effects – stimulating local supply chains, increasing local spending, and building the kind of vibrant communities where people want to live, work, and explore.

Because of your support, MMDC continues to:

- Attract and retain new business investment that grows our regional economy.
- Support small businesses and entrepreneurs as they innovate and expand.
- Build partnerships that prepare our workforce for the jobs of tomorrow while encouraging them to consider careers locally in Middle Michigan.
- Champion placemaking efforts that make Middle Michigan an exceptional place to call home.

As 2025 came to a close, we did so with a deep sense of pride and gratitude. The year presented real challenges for many businesses, families, and communities; from economic uncertainty to workforce pressures and rising costs. Yet, despite these headwinds, Middle Michigan continued to move forward. With your partnership, MMDC remained focused, responsive, and committed to delivering results that matter.

Together, we navigated change, supported businesses through pivotal moments, and helped position our region for long-term success. The progress we made this year is a testament to the strength of collaboration across Clare, Isabella, and Osceola counties and to a shared belief in the potential of Middle Michigan.

As we look ahead, we are energized by the momentum we've built and confident in the opportunities before us. Thank you for standing with MMDC in 2025 and for investing in a future where our communities continue to grow, adapt, and thrive!

With sincere appreciation,

GROWING MIDDLE MICHIGAN

Thriving communities and strong economies go hand in hand. Growing businesses, talented people, and vibrant communities are all essential to long-term prosperity – each reinforcing the other.

Economic development connects these elements by supporting business growth, fostering talent, and strengthening the places where people live and work. By aligning our efforts across these priorities, we are building a region that is economically competitive and a great place to call home.

MMDC aspires to fulfill our mission of growing the regional economy and advancing our vision of championing prosperity and vibrancy across our region.

OUR VISION

As the primary economic development driver for businesses, communities, and industrial partners, we champion prosperity and vibrancy for Middle Michigan.

OUR MISSION

We grow the economy with services designed to retain, expand, and attract businesses in Clare, Isabella, and Osceola counties to foster economic vitality and resilience in our region.

MULTIPLE BUSINESSES EXPAND ACROSS MIDDLE MICHIGAN

Across Middle Michigan, momentum is taking shape through the growth of local employers who are choosing to invest, expand, and deepen their roots in the region.

From skilled trades to advanced manufacturing and healthcare, businesses are responding to opportunity with action. J. Ranck Electric is expanding to meet growing demand for electrical and infrastructure services, supporting projects that keep communities and industries moving forward. MLT Trucking continues to strengthen regional logistics and reinforce Middle Michigan's role in moving goods efficiently across the state and beyond. This year, they added a 75,000 square foot warehouse facility to ensure that other local businesses could store product here, not in nearby states.

In manufacturing, LEAR and Northern Molding are investing in expanded capacity and innovation, reinforcing the region's position as a competitive hub for high-quality production and skilled talent. Their growth reflects confidence in the local workforce and supply chain, while creating new career pathways for residents. At the same time, On the Mark is growing its footprint, demonstrating how locally rooted businesses can evolve and thrive while continuing to serve their customers and communities.

Healthcare remains a cornerstone of regional vitality, and MyMichigan Health's $40+ million investment into their ongoing expansion and renovation ensures that families across Middle Michigan have access to high-quality care closer to home. These investments not only enhance health outcomes but also support job creation and long-term economic stability.

Together, these expanding businesses tell a larger story – one of confidence in Middle Michigan's people, partnerships, and potential. Their continued investment signals a region that is growing with purpose, resilience, and a shared commitment to building a strong economic future.

SETTING THE STAGE FOR FUTURE DEVELOPMENT: INVESTING IN INFRASTRUCTURE

Infrastructure investment is also advancing in our broader region. Key transportation improvements announced in 2025 include:

- Clare County: MDOT maintenance and structural improvements on US-10 and associated bridges support extended service life and transportation reliability for residents and businesses.
- Isabella County: Michigan Department of Transportation (MDOT) invested in resurfacing US-127 in the Mt. Pleasant area, improving roadway conditions and supporting safety and job creation.
- Osceola County: The Osceola County Road Commission was awarded $5.3 million in grant funding to rebuild 135th Avenue and Schofield Road to all-season standards, a vital upgrade tied to the anticipated Michigan Potash and Salt Co. facility - a project expected to bring hundreds of jobs and significant private investment to the region.

These infrastructure initiatives help support not only daily travel and safety but also the efficient movement of goods and workforce mobility, directly benefiting existing employers and making the region more attractive to new business investment.

As MMDC moves into 2026, we remain committed to working with partners at all levels to ensure that Middle Michigan's infrastructure continues to keep pace with the needs of our growing economy, while fostering an environment where businesses can thrive.

LAYING THE GROUNDWORK FOR GROWTH

In 2025, Middle Michigan continued to make significant strides in preparing the region for sustained economic growth by advancing critical infrastructure projects and strengthening partnerships that reduce barriers to business attraction and expansion.

MMDC worked closely with local municipalities, Central Michigan University (CMU), and the Central Michigan University Research Corporation (CMURC) through the Mt. Pleasant SmartZone Infrastructure Committee to strategically align priorities and drive development-readiness.

A hallmark achievement of this collaboration was securing $25,000 in funding through the Michigan Economic Development Corporation's Strategic Site Readiness Program (SSRP) to complete a Plante Moran infrastructure and process study. This study played a crucial role in modernizing administrative processes within the SmartZone by enabling the Central Michigan University Board of Trustees to authorize streamlined lease approvals – empowering the CMU President to sign leases on behalf of the board. This administrative efficiency removes a key barrier for prospective tenants and positions the SmartZone for accelerated occupancy and expansion.

MIDDLE MICHIGAN WELCOMES NEW 100,000 SQUARE FOOT AMAZON FACILITY TO ISABELLA COUNTY

Through our proactive site readiness and business attraction initiatives, MMDC partnered closely with the City of Clare and Isabella County to prepare a parcel in the Clare South Industrial Park to a true shovel-ready standard; ensuring infrastructure, zoning, and due diligence elements were in place to meet the needs of modern industry. As a direct result of that groundwork, we received a call from a national site selector seeking a location for a new last-mile distribution center for Amazon. The 100,000-square-foot facility is now well underway and represents a significant regional investment and will deliver long-term economic benefits to both Clare and Isabella County, reinforcing the value of strategic site preparation and regional collaboration.

SMALL BUSINESS GROWTH IN MIDDLE MICHIGAN

MMDC aims to spotlight the small and micro-businesses across our region that announced their opening, officially launched, or expanded to a new location in 2025.

SUPPORTING ENTREPRENEURS AND SMALL BUSINESSES

All across Middle Michigan, our work has focused on elevating small businesses, expanding creative and commercial opportunity, supporting entrepreneurs, and building a more connected, resilient regional economy.

EMPOWERING ENTREPRENEURS: REED CITY DOWNTOWN PITCH

MMDC hosted its fourth annual Downtown Pitch, this time in Reed City. This event brings together business owners and community leaders together and allows for the local community to further support businesses in their downtown.

Participants receive hands-on support to refine their pitch decks, evaluate space needs and prepare for real-world investment. Typically, these businesses are not in communities eligible to participate in state programs like Match on Main. Downtown Pitch was designed to help fill this gap.

This year, three businesses and organizations were able to compete for a first place prize of $10,000. Community members were also able to vote on their favorite pitch presented. Homemade Gifts & More, The INC Spot, and Fur Babies Pet Care were the three finalists selected to pitch. Fur Babies Pet Care won both the first place prize and the people's choice award. This award allowed them to relocate their business to a new location downtown and fully renovate it. Without this funding, they would have had to close their downtown storefront and operate their business from their home.

Increasing Our Reach through the TRUSTED CONNECTOR PROGRAM

In 2025, MMDC was awarded a Trusted Connector Grant – an investment from the state that significantly expanded our ability to meet businesses where they are and connect them to the resources they need to grow. At its core, the Trusted Connector Program strengthened what we do best: building relationships and turning conversations into action.

Through this program, MMDC increased its reach across the region by engaging with businesses that may not have previously interacted with economic development services. By serving as a single, trusted point of contact, our team was able to better identify challenges, share opportunities, and guide businesses toward meaningful support.

One of the most impactful outcomes of the Trusted Connector Program was increased engagement through the Technology Improvement Grant. As awareness of this program expanded, more businesses connected with MMDC to explore ways technology investments could improve operations, increase efficiency, and support long-term growth. These connections not only resulted in successful grant applications, but also opened the door to deeper, ongoing relationships with local employers. In total, 42 businesses across Clare, Isabella, and Osceola counties received up to $1,000 to support technology improvements and enhancements necessary to be competitive in today’s market.

CLARE COUNTY	9 BUSINESSES $8,606.00
ISABELLA COUNTY	30 BUSINESSES $28,265.27
OSCEOLA COUNTY	3 BUSINESSES $2,700.00

The Trusted Connector Program also helped elevate in-person engagement through Business Brews mixers held throughout 2025. These informal events created accessible, welcoming spaces for entrepreneurs, small business owners, and partners to connect with one another, and with MMDC staff. These events have proven to be especially effective in reaching new businesses, sparking peer-to-peer collaboration, and initiating follow-up conversations that led to additional services, referrals, and resource connections. These events will continue throughout 2026.

Together, these efforts significantly broadened MMDC’s visibility and impact across the region. The Trusted Connector Program allowed us to move beyond transactional support and deepen our role as a relationship-driven partner in economic development – one conversation, one connection, and one business at a time.

SINCE THE LAUNCH OF THE TRUSTED CONNECTOR PROGRAM IN 2025.

DOWNTOWN BUILDINGS GET NEW LIFE THROUGHOUT MIDDLE MICHIGAN

This year, we are proud to highlight several catalytic redevelopment projects that are reshaping our downtowns and strengthening the long-term vitality of our communities.

A truly transformational project is underway in downtown Evert. Through a collaborative partnership between the City of Evert, the Evert Housing Commission, and state partners, this development will add approximately 10 new apartments along with first-floor commercial space. The project leverages a unique pilot program through the Michigan Economic Development Corporation (MEDC) and the Michigan State Housing Development Authority (MSHDA), creating an innovative funding model that can serve as a blueprint for other rural communities.

In downtown Reed City, we supported a local building owner in securing a $350,808 Build MI Home grant to renovate a historic structure into commercial office space on the first floor, with a residential apartment above. This project preserves the character of the building while ensuring it remains a productive asset to the community – adding both economic activity and housing in the downtown core.

In the heart of downtown Mt. Pleasant, the buildings at 115 and 117 S University Ave. are being transformed from outdated office spaces into vibrant, modern mixed-use developments. Once complete, these properties will feature new apartments on the upper floors and dynamic commercial or retail space at street level. This $2.1 million investment not only addresses the growing demand for downtown housing but also enhances walkability, supports small businesses, and brings renewed energy to a key corridor in the city.

Together, these projects represent more than building renovations – they reflect strategic investments in housing, entrepreneurship, and community vibrancy. By supporting mixed-use redevelopment and fostering strong partnerships, we are helping to build resilient downtowns that attract residents, businesses, and opportunity for years to come.

REED CITY ADDS POCKET PARK TO DOWNTOWN AREA

Exciting progress is underway for the new downtown pocket park in Reed City. What used to be a long-vacant lot at the corner of Slosson Street and Chestnut Street is being transformed into a vibrant, year-round community gathering place that will be known to future generations as Celebration Park. Thanks to a $1.5 million Revitalization and Placemaking (RAP) grant from the Michigan Economic Development Corporation (MEDC), matched by local funds and private support, final designs have been completed and Gerber Construction has made significant progress since the groundbreaking.

The park's design will include a splash pad for warm-weather fun, a flexible ice-skating area for winter, a bandshell/stage for live performances, picnic areas, a warming fireplace, and public restrooms all intended to make the space welcoming in every season.

"Celebration Park is more than just a gathering space – it's a catalyst for downtown activity. By creating a place where people naturally gather, we're supporting nearby businesses and enhancing the overall appeal of Reed City as a destination. This type of investment plays a key role in our long-term economic development strategy."

Rich Saladin, City Manager for Reed City.

40 UNDER 40

CELEBRATING LEADERSHIP, CONNECTION, AND MOMENTUM

This year's 40 Under 40 event was more than a celebration – it was a powerful reminder of the depth of talent, leadership, and commitment shaping the future of Middle Michigan.

Although this was the third year that MMDC partnered with Greater Gratiot Development, Inc. to honor young professionals, it marked the first time a stand-alone event was hosted to celebrate emerging leaders under the age of 40 who were making meaningful contributions across business, education, healthcare, nonprofit work, and civic life in Central Michigan.

In 2025, the response and engagement surrounding the event reached new heights, reflecting both the strength of the regional leadership pipeline and a growing desire to connect across sectors and communities.

From the moment nominations opened, it was clear that the year's class would be exceptional. An impressive number of nominations were received from across the region, each telling a compelling story of innovation, service, and impact. The diversity of backgrounds and industries represented reinforced a core truth: leadership in Mid-Michigan took many forms, and it was thriving.

The event itself brought together honorees, past recipients, employers, community partners, and supporters in a shared space designed to celebrate achievement while fostering connection.

Several honorees noted that the opportunity to connect with peers from different industries and counties was just as meaningful as the recognition itself. That sense of cross-sector connection is a key outcome MMDC strived to achieve, as strong regional networks are essential to long-term economic and community vitality.

BOOSTING TALENT: GROWING THE POPULATION AND STRENGTHENING OUR WORKFORCE

MIDDLE MICHIGAN: COMING HOME CONTINUES FOR 7TH CONSECUTIVE YEAR

In 2025, MMDC partnered with Greater Gratiot Development Inc. and Gladwin EDC to host over 140 career seekers and connect them with 20+ businesses across five counties. Held during Central Michigan University's homecoming weekend, the event brought together graduating students from Alma College, Central Michigan University, Ferris State University, and Mid Michigan College, while also welcoming alumni interested in returning to Middle Michigan.

PARTNERING WITH CMU ATHLETICS TO PROMOTE MIDDLE MICHIGAN AS A GREAT PLACE TO CALL HOME

Middle Michigan partnered with CMU Athletics on a marketing campaign that promoted our organization and MichiganCentered.com at football and basketball games, while also connecting directly with 157 student-athletes through etiquette dinners and mock interviews, supported by 82 local professional volunteers. This effort not only highlighted our talent-focused website and After Central program, but also helped us engage students and showcase the opportunities available across our three counties.

MMDC'S AFTER CENTRAL PROGRAM KICKS OFF

MMDC received a $20,000 grant to launch "After Central," a program supporting recent Central Michigan University graduates who plan to stay locally. Participants can receive a $1,500 stipend to reduce workforce barriers, along with benefits like Young Professional Network memberships, park passes, gym access, and financial literacy support in exchange for committing to live and work in the area for at least one year. The program aims to help participants build local roots and connections that encourage long-term retention. In its first year, MMDC has had five individuals approved for the program.

TACKLING WORKFORCE BARRIERS THROUGH A HOLISTIC, MIDDLE MICHIGAN APPROACH

As workforce challenges continue to evolve, MMDC remains focused on removing barriers that keep people from participating fully in the regional economy. By addressing housing and childcare as essential components of workforce development, we are helping build stronger businesses, more resilient communities, and a Middle Michigan where people can live, work, and thrive.

SUPPORTING WORKING FAMILIES THROUGH CHILDCARE INITIATIVES

Childcare access is another critical factor shaping workforce participation, especially for parents and caregivers. When reliable childcare isn't available, businesses feel it through reduced hours, absenteeism, and lost talent.

MMDC has worked to bring childcare challenges into workforce and business development conversations, helping employers, providers, and community leaders better understand the economic impact of childcare gaps. By sharing best practices, supporting regional dialogue, and aligning childcare needs with broader workforce strategies, MMDC is helping lay the groundwork for solutions that support both families and employers.

In 2025, Middle Michigan Development Corporation continued to lead the region's East Central Childcare Coalition, bringing in an additional $100,000 to support this work through state-led initiatives. Additionally, MMDC was selected to facilitate a $1.6 million Wage Initiative program that will support childcare workers across nine counties, raising wages to ensure highly skilled individuals retain positions at childcare centers and at in-home establishments locally. Combined, the childcare coalition and the wage initiative program will allow MMDC to continue engaging in conversations that will hopefully lead to a sustainable model to support the childcare workforce in our area.

applications from childcare providers (totaling 1,574 individuals) were received to participate in the Wage Initiative Program.

ADDRESSING HOUSING AS A WORKFORCE ISSUE

A strong workforce doesn't start at the job site – it starts at home. Across Middle Michigan, employers continue to tell us the same thing: attracting and retaining workers isn't just about wages. It's about whether people can find a place to live, afford childcare, and build a life in the communities where they work.

In response, Middle Michigan Development Corporation has made workforce support a core pillar of our economic development strategy, with a growing focus on housing and childcare solutions that reflect the realities of Michigan communities.

Duplex units in the Village of Rosebush, Isabella County, that received funding from the MSHDA MI Neighborhood program in 2025.

Duplex units in the City of Harrison, Clare County, that received funding from the MSHDA MI Neighborhood program are set on their foundation.

Access to safe, affordable housing has become one of the most significant barriers to workforce participation across our region. Through partnerships with local governments, developers, employers, and state agencies, MMDC has helped advance housing conversations that are grounded in workforce needs – from entry-level workers and young professionals to families and seniors looking to age in place.

By supporting housing feasibility discussions, connecting projects to funding opportunities, and elevating housing data at the regional level, MMDC is helping communities move from conversation to action. These approaches recognize that housing solutions in rural and small-town communities look different than those in urban areas – and that flexibility and local leadership are key to success.

HEALTHCARE INVESTMENTS MADE IN MT. PLEASANT

Both MyMichigan Health and McLaren Central Michigan continued to invest in the Mt. Pleasant area in 2025. MyMichigan invested $3 million at their Pickard St. location and expanded onto Mission St. with the opening of their rehabilitation center. McLaren Central Michigan also invested $2 million into their facilities, ensuring that healthcare is easily accessible here in Middle Michigan.

TRACTOR SUPPLY COMPANY BREAKS GROUND

The City of Ewart celebrated the arrival of Tractor Supply Company with a groundbreaking ceremony in April.

MID MICHIGAN COLLEGE BREAKS GROUND ON NEW EVENT CENTER

Signifying a new era of growth, Mid Michigan College broke ground at their Mt. Pleasant campus on a new event venue. This will provide the school and the community with a much needed gathering space for events and sporting activities that the Middle Michigan area is becoming known for.

REED CITY TURNS 150!

The City of Reed City celebrated their Sesquicentennial Anniversary in 2025, marking 150 years since its founding. The milestone was commemorated with community events, historical reflections, and celebrations honoring the city's heritage.

COPS & DOUGHNUTS WELCOMES NEW OWNER

Middle Michigan assisted the Clare Community with getting to know Achille Di Nello, the new owner of Cops & Doughnuts, as the keynote speaker for the Clare County Breakfast. Achille Di Nello also owns and operates Halo Burger, Melting Moments, New York Pie and Tru Pizza Co.

CITY OF HARRISON LAUNCHES THE HUB: CULINARY AND BUSINESS INCUBATOR

The City of Harrison officially opened The Hub downtown, featuring a coworking space, a rentable commercial kitchen incubator, and a venue!

This Year's Annual Award Recipients

The Middle Michigan Development Corporation (MMDC) proudly celebrated another successful year of honoring progress, partnership, and leadership at our 2025 Annual Meeting. This year's MMDC Economic Development Awards recognized the businesses, community partners, and local leaders who are driving growth across Clare, Isabella, and Osceola counties.

From transformative redevelopment projects to job-creating investments and innovative collaborations, the award recipients represent the very best of what regional cooperation can accomplish. Each honoree reflects MMDC's commitment to strengthening our communities through strategic site readiness, business expansion, housing development, and placemaking initiatives.

As we look ahead, the momentum continues. The 2025 awards were not just a celebration of achievements over the past year - they were a reminder that when public and private partners work together with a shared vision, Middle Michigan wins.
