

Vestry Selection Guide

2025

The nomination committee has selected six new vestry members to be presented to the parish for approval at the Sunday, April 27, 2025 parish meeting.

The procedure of presenting a slate of six candidates for approval rather than voting among 12 candidates was approved by the vestry in 2013 in order to provide for the specific needs of the church in the coming few years.

The nomination committee, composed of the retiring vestry members and three at large members, chose the slate from individuals nominated for consideration by the parish. Those selected and brief information about them follows.

The proposed individuals were chosen to bring their special talents to the current needs of All Saints'. All are active in various ways at the church, and are confirmed, pledging members of the congregation. We hope you enjoy learning more about them and so thankful for everyone in our All Saints' community.

EPISCOPAL • ATLANTA

Meg Fogel

Meg is married and a proud mother of two daughters. She has been a member of All Saints since 2006, where both of her daughters were baptized and are actively involved in the choir. Meg has also played a significant role in the church's ministry, including leading the search for the Children and Youth Choir Director and co-chairing the Hallelujah Anyhow celebration for the Refugee Ministry.

Her professional background is in interior design, where she works for Gensler, a global architecture and design firm. In her role, she leads workplace projects, crafting innovative environments and experiences that enable clients to thrive and perform their best work.

With a passion for the youth of the church, community service and design, Meg will bring a unique perspective and dedication to her work with the Vestry.

Danny Johnson

Danny Johnson alongside his wife, Louisa, and children Maddy and Harlan, have been dedicated members of All Saints' since 2011. Danny serves as the Buildings and Grounds Committee Chair, Welcome Table usher, member of the Finance Committee, and has previously volunteered his time teaching children's Formation and serving with Louisa as chairs of the 2021 Stewardship Campaign.

Over the years, the Johnson family has deeply engaged in the life of All Saints', finding a second home in our children's and youth choirs, SNL events, youth trips, and Wednesday night suppers. Danny's professional work as a civil engineer at the Atlanta Regional Commission, focusing on metro Atlanta's water resource planning, complements his dedication to community stewardship. He and his family are grateful for the opportunity to serve All Saints', a community that has enriched their lives immeasurably.

Louise Geddes

Louise grew up in Macon Ga but shortly after graduating from college, she moved overseas to London where she met Jim, her Aussie husband of 35 years. They moved to Atlanta in 1991 and raised three children here. Louise grew up in the Presbyterian. They spent many years at St Anne's Episcopal before discovering All Saints about 15 years ago. They really enjoy the All Saints community and the midtown vibe. Over the years they have gotten involved in Covenant Community and the Refugee ministry, and Louise has also been involved in the altar guild and the flower guild. She has also volunteered, occasionally, at Threads.

Louise studied mathematics and economics in college and graduate school, and over the years she has worked in banking and in commercial real estate, before finally spending many years teaching middle and high school math at Atlanta International School, where the Geddes children went to school. She is now officially retired from paid work.

Besides her husband and her kids, Louise also loves the great outdoors, playing bridge or tennis, her pets and her grandchild. She looks forward to more involvement at All Saints.

Hank Harris

Hank has enjoyed volunteering with the refugee ministry over the past couple of years, teaching 6th grade Sunday School, and continuing the grueling work of ushering at the 9 o'clock service.

He has also served on the board of Covenant Community, coordinated the ASC relationship with Bright Horizons, and previously served on the Vestry, with one year as Senior Warden.

Hank also has been on pilgrimages to the Holy Land and Greece with Simon and All Saints'.

Two of Hank's three children were married at All Saints, one by Simon and one by his predecessor, both of whom did a splendid job, as both are still happily married.

Holly Stevens

Holly and her husband Bob and have been members of All Saints' for over twenty years. Our children, Andrew (23) and Cate (21), were both baptized at All Saints'. She has volunteered with Refugee Ministries, most recently serving as administrative lead for a Refugee Ministries resettlement team and as chair of the Communications Committee for the Hallelujah Anyhow campaign. She currently serves as liaison for another resettlement team.

She has also volunteered with the Baptismal Banners committee for over a decade and has been an active member of the St. Catherine's group since its founding. She is a new-ish member of the Flower Guild. Last year, she also served on the selection committee for our new Director of Music.

My professional background is in the legal profession, as a litigator in private practice and as a trial attorney with the U.S. Department of Justice, Antitrust Division. Outside of my volunteer work with All Saints', I am on the Board of Directors of the Ansley Park Civic Association, and I have volunteered in the past with the Piedmont Park Conservancy and my children's schools.

Rick Woodward

Rick served as an usher for more than 25 years and is currently captain of the 9:00 usher team and has overall responsibility for the four 9:00 teams. He has helped involve our young people in ushering during youth services and at other times. For the past 20+ years, he has helped All Saints' with matters related to insurance and risk management.

Active in the rejuvenated men's group, he is a member of the All Saints' Thursday Night Bible Study Group as well as a monthly lunch gathering of All Saints' men. He has also served on the board of trustees for Canterbury Court and is still active as an emeritus trustee.

Rick has experienced the warmth and support of the All Saints' community when his beloved wife Kay died suddenly seven years ago. He credits part of his ability to get through this dark period to the support of his wonderful church family. Recently married to Susan Marshall, Rick and Susan now have a blended family of four children and three grandchildren. They love to travel and spend time with their grandkids. Rick is a frequent, if unskilled, golfer.
