New Year Expectation

Philippians 1:18-21 Yes, and I will rejoice, 19 for I know that through your prayers and the help of the Spirit of Jesus Christ this will turn out for my deliverance, 20 as it is my eager expectation and hope that I will not be at all ashamed, but that with full courage now as always Christ will be honored in my body, whether by life or by death. 21 For to me to live is Christ, and to die is gain.-ESV

It is always a wonder to sit with Paul in his prison cell, reflecting on his numerous sufferings, and to hear him say with such joy the great expectation and hope he had in Christ. From the outside, Paul had every reason to be pessimistic, doubtful, and anxious about the future. There were many times his mission was opposed, he was the target of anger and resentment from many, and Paul often faced rejection even from those you would expect to support him.

Still, Paul knew something I think we often forget. With Jesus as the source of our life and power, there is nothing that can truly harm us. The closer we trend to Jesus and his word, the more certain we can be that the future, whatever it may yet hold, will be one where Christ is honored.

This focus on Christ must now and always remain the focus for us at Hope Lutheran Church. Grand plans for ministry, service, care and love we might have, we must first make certain our eyes are firmly set on Jesus. Every other thing we need, mission, vision, resources, and the hard work that goes with that, every good thing we need will be provided according to the mercy and supply of our God. As James admonishes us, let us be quick to first seek his will and blessing for any of our plans.

I am eager for the days ahead. Excited that the Lord will bring our call process to a good end, hopeful for the ministry and evangelism we will do as his church, thrilled to see what God might yet do here with us at Hope and in Wake Forest.

I can't wait to see what the Lord has in store for us this year. God's blessings upon you and your family.

Hope in Christ with you,
Pastor Devin Murphy

Blessings For Sabbatical

Dear Hope Family,

As many of you know, I will soon be stepping into a sabbatical season, and I wanted to share a bit about what this time means to me and why I am so deeply grateful for it.

I have served as a Director of Christian Education for 20 years this year, and this will be my first sabbatical. I approach this time with humility, gratitude, and a clear sense of purpose. A sabbatical is not simply time away, it is intentional time set aside for renewal, reflection, and restoration so that ministry may continue in healthy and life-giving ways.

One of my primary goals during this sabbatical is ministry rest. After many years of faithful service, this season allows space to rest in the Lord, to step back from constant responsibility, and to be renewed so I may return with fresh energy and clarity for the work God has placed before me.

A second and very important goal is reconnecting with my family. The past few years at Hope have included many late nights, meetings, and responsibilities that have sometimes meant my family received what was left of my time and energy. During this sabbatical, I hope to be more present with them, to strengthen our relationships, and to reset healthy boundaries so that my family life and ministry life can both flourish as God intends. As a fun note our family is going on a once in a lifetime trip to Australia in March, nothing says reconnecting like 26 hours of travel with 3 children.

Finally, this sabbatical will give me space to organize and prepare my public speaking ministry related to the loss of my sister, Lauren. Over the years, I have been invited to speak to a wide range of audiences; law students, homicide support organizations, domestic violence groups, women's gatherings, Youth gatherings and college students. Requests continue to come, and my desire is to steward these opportunities well. During this time, I hope to thoughtfully organize my speaking materials so that when opportunities arise, I am prepared to share in a way that brings hope, healing, and points clearly to God's light in the midst of tragedy.

I am deeply thankful to Hope for supporting this sabbatical and for recognizing the importance of caring for called workers and their families. My prayer is that this time will be a blessing not only to me and my family, but also to this congregation as I return renewed and ready to continue serving alongside you.

Thank you for your prayers, encouragement, and grace.

With gratitude,
Beth Agner
