Do You Feel the Fall Stir?

Diana Vander Pas | Multisite Director of Small Groups

I want to dream of a great new fresh start this fall and yet what I really feel is busyness and a frantic flurry of activities. I always think that I can organize my time better, or try harder, or hope that the start of a new school year will bring a new and better experience.

But before I know it, I am tired, worn down, and needing a break the same way I did last fall. So, I'm asking God (again) to help me lean into practices and rhythms that help me work out of a place of rest. For me to slow down rather than speed up. Take more time with Jesus when I feel like I don't have time. Lean into connection and community rather than "get more accomplished." Why? Because these are the practices that bring life.

Jesus leads me to connect and engage with Him and with people and the world around me. Ask Jesus how you can connect and engage this fall in practices that bring you the life that is truly life. Listen to His voice and follow Him.

Starting Fresh

Another summer has flown by, and the fall season has quickly arrived. At WLC it has been a very busy summer preparing for the fall. In a strange way even though it is in the middle of the calendar year the fall always marks new beginnings, kids are headed back to school, we are gearing up for a new ministry year at church, and so on.

Anytime we have a new beginning we have the opportunity for a fresh start. My wife Steph and I like to joke about the phrase a “fresh start” after eating a whole bunch of ice cream...We say no worries we can start fresh in the morning, meaning more fruit and less ice cream tomorrow.

Over the last few years, maybe you have found yourself wishing you could have a fresh start, a new beginning. A good friend of mine always says that we get to decide what we make the priorities in our life, no one else chooses them for us.

This fall I am inviting you to take a fresh start in your walk with Jesus. Starting September 10th across all our campuses we will be kicking off a message series where we will be focused on what it actually looks like to follow Jesus in our everyday lives.

Back in Jesus' day the way that people would learn from a Rabbi was by literally following them. By doing so they would act as sort of an apprentice learning the ways of their master and then they would put those ways into practice in their everyday lives.

When we look at the life of Jesus, we begin to see some practices that He went to on a regular basis, things like Slowing, Solitude, Silence, Prayer, Scripture, Sabbath, and Community. When Jesus speaks to us about wearing His yoke what He is really saying is look at my life and model what I do. Jesus claims that His yoke is easy, and His burden is light. I bet that sounds refreshing? Could it be that a lighter yoke simply means a life that looks more like the life of Jesus?

Maybe a fresh start isn't as far as we might think it is. Maybe it starts by taking off all the yokes that we have put on and replacing them with the yoke of Jesus. Come and learn what it looks like to be His apprentice and follow His ways - you get to decide!

Following Jesus!

Caring Connections

Pastor Tim Marshall | Pastoral Care Ministries

With the passage of time comes changes in our habits and routines. Some of those changes might be welcome changes (the birth of a child), while others weren't anticipated nor appreciated (losing a job). And still other changes happen that we aren't even fully aware of (discovering the death of a friend you lost track of). When changes happen, we can either gain community or lose community. Sometimes, isolation can set in, and we find ourselves more and more alone.

Recently, I had a phone call with an individual who had been feeling isolated in a lot of different ways. This person doesn't have any family around, few friends, and isn't very connected to any groups or other activities that can help them feel connected. As we talked, the loneliness was pretty evident, and I felt this person's frustration as well. In a world that is increasingly disconnecting from others, it can be easy to feel alone.

This is why it is so important to feel connected to something. It could be worship, it could be a bible study during the week, it could be connecting with your small group. But how can you be connected when you are going through misfortunes in life that have increased your isolation? If you are in a small group, I would encourage you to remain connected to your group, reaching out to those you haven't heard from for a while. Some of the best stories I hear about our small groups is when they provide meals for those who are going through a hardship of some kind.

If you aren't a part of a small group at this time and are feeling isolated due to difficult life circumstances, you might benefit from our Stephen Ministry, a one-to-one caregiving ministry for those who feel like they have no one to walk alongside them. If you find yourself in the hospital, please call the church office and let us know. (We no longer hear from the hospital when someone is hospitalized due to HIPAA laws, and we would love to visit you.)

Another way you can combat feeling isolated is to become more engaged at church. There are many ways you can become a part of our serving community at WLC. If you know how you would like to serve, you can talk to the leader of that ministry to get better connected. Maybe you aren't sure where you would like to serve... If that is the case, reach out to one of us pastors or other staff members who would be happy to help you discover where you might fit best.

Whether you are in need of a caring connection or looking for a way to be engaged, one thing is clear... We are better together!

Sharing Stories to Connect & Engage

Diana Vander Pas | Multisite Director of Small Groups

I'm known for my appreciation of story... for telling stories and for listening to other people's stories. If you want me to feel uncomfortable, just tell me to sit in silence with someone I just met! God works in and through our stories as He shapes our identity to be more like Him. I wish parts of my story weren't there; parts that I am not proud of, or that were difficult. But I've grown to trust that God doesn't waste anything. He can use and transform even the ugly parts of my life for my ultimate good and for His glory.

So, who are you sharing your story with and whose stories are you listening to? I try to hear stories from people who are brothers and sisters in Christ, and from people who look and think differently than me. It helps me see Jesus at work in many ways, reminds me we are all broken and in need of a Savior, and it grows my understanding, love, and compassion for others. I think we need more of that in our world today, don't you?

Take time in your small groups to share your stories. Share your story with your mentor or mentee. Take a moment when you are at a restaurant to ask your server how they are doing today and how you can pray for them. Set time aside on your next plane ride to listen with a humble and curious (not judgmental) spirit to the person next to you.

How can you connect and engage with the people around you? Remembering that God loved people so much that He sent His one and only Son for them. Ask Jesus to use these connections and stories for your ultimate good and His glory.

Fall Time for New Beginnings

Nancy Schubbe | Director of Kids Ministry

My parents were both teachers, so fall was always a busy time at our house. Not only were there back-to-school supplies and clothes shopping, but there were lesson plans to write, schedules to finalize, and phone calls to make to new students in my mom's Kindergarten classes. Many days were spent cutting nametags for those first days of school!

While fall is an exciting time, it can also be an overwhelming time because of all the new things happening. There are visits to new classrooms, new teachers to meet, activities to sign up for, etc. So why is it important to take the time to attend worship and register your kids for WLCkids? I mean it's all available online anyway, right?

We do have lots of options from just catching the sermon on YouTube to listening to the playlist from last Sunday's worship songs. So why engage and travel to the physical church on a Sunday? If you want to move from a consumer to a contributor, or from someone others serve to a servant, then traveling to your place of worship is the right move!

It's also a great way to show your kids what matters most to you and your family. Talk to your kids, have a family meeting, and share your vision for your family as they grow in faith. Worship together, take communion together, even when your kids are too young and get a simple blessing. Let your kids see you serve others and let them serve alongside you whenever possible. Talk together about what they learned in WLCkids. What was the Bible story about? How does it apply to their lives?

The second great reason to attend on Sunday mornings is to invite friends to join you. Or meet other people new to the faith brought by other members. Maybe you yourself still have some room to grow in your faith, and can't we all make that statement? Come and help make the place you worship an open, welcoming, and loving place for all who are growing in their faith in Jesus.

What better example for your kids to watch and see in action? Parents who care for others, welcome others, make space for others, as they learn about Jesus' love for them. Engaging in worship and serving are keyways for you to continue to grow your faith and to help your family grow together in their faith.

One more great reason to find time to worship in person is that you become a real part of our church family. God's plan was a good one! He knew we all need each other for support and strength as we grow in our faith. We truly are "better together"!

"We know what real love is because Jesus gave up his life for us. So, we also ought to give up our lives for our brothers and sisters."
1 John 3:16 NLT

Thank You!

WLCyouth would love to say a HUGE thank you to all of our Peach purchasing families! 485 cartons of peaches were sold, raising over $6,000. These funds are so helpful for our youth families!

You may not know this, but most of our youth fundraisers at WLC are led by amazing volunteers. Julie Williams-Wolterstorff and Cindy Cavallaro gracefully and generously led the way on the Peach sale this year with great support from the WLC office staff and custodial team! These leaders were also supported and encouraged by many youth families and friends of WLCyouth who gave their time and energy to help carry peaches, welcome, and call folks. Thanks again!

Power in Your “YES” or “NO”

Bethany Meyer | Wakota Ridge NextGen Minister & Multisite Reach Coordinator

Fall has a bit of a New Year’s resolution feel to it, doesn’t it? We get involved in activities, our schedules feel fresh, and we are back to a rhythm hoping for a great year ahead. The challenge begins when our rhythm gets shifted a couple months later and we find ourselves trying to keep all the must-dos on the schedule going. Things no longer feel fresh, we are exhausted and hoping the next season comes quick. So, how can we get to a place where we avoid all of that so we can enjoy a more grounded fresh start?

Something I learned when our world was starting up again post-pandemic, is that I just don’t have to do all the things I used to do. There is good in my “yes” and “no.” When I say “no” to something (even though it might be good, or something I would enjoy doing), I open myself up to say “yes” to something that is even better and keeps me filled.

What might you need to say “no” to this Fall, so you can say “yes” to the better option?

Starting fresh isn’t just about a new calendar date. It is also about how we fill that calendar. Here are a few questions to ponder:

Am I leaving space for God to invite me into places where I can grow closer to him?

Am I leaving space for God to invite me into places where I can serve him and those around me?

Am I leaving space to give the best, most rested and filled version of myself to those I love?

I encourage all of us to consider what fills our calendars and leave space for engaging and connecting with God and others. And, because I believe walking the walk is important, I’ll share with you what my plan is this year—not to boast, but in hopes that it could help you consider what is possible for you.

Grow: by participating in BSF and studying the book of John.

Serve: by choosing less activities so I can say “yes” to co-workers, friends, family, and neighbors who need a helping hand. And, by checking in with those people regularly to listen for ways I can be of support.

Rest: by following through with resting on my Sabbath day (rather than trying to get errands done), 2 solo solitude days (Fall and Spring), monthly unstructured time for exploring creation and being creative, and reading 4 books to grow and learn.

What could it look like for you? If you aren’t sure of all the possibilities, I invite you to wander the Connect & Engage event at your campus on September 10th (VC, OH & WR) or September 17th (VC) to see what sparks your interest. And carve out time to ponder what honors God, brings you joy and keeps you grounded, a great idea will likely surface there.

Feed My Starving Children - Save the Date!

This fall WLC will be hosting another MobilePack event for Feed My Starving Children! This is a GREAT opportunity to live The [Disciple] Life and become more like Jesus by serving others with your time, energy, and love. We invite you to take these 3 steps:

1. Mark your calendar for October 26, 27, & 28 (specific info and hours to pack meals will be provided later)
2. Join our Team! We'd love to have you join in on making the event a success. There are various ways to serve with flexible times! If you enjoy hospitality, praying, working with your hands or thinking logistically, your gifts can benefit this event! Contact Bethany Meyer with questions or to get involved meyerb@woodburylutheran.org.
3. Begin making a list of neighbors, co-workers, or family members to invite to pack meals with you! Invite them to be a part of something very big that God is doing in the world. Their efforts will make a difference in the lives of real children!

FMSC is a Christian nonprofit organization committed to feeding God's children who are hungry in body and spirit. The approach is simple: children and adults hand-pack meals - MannaPack™ Rice - formulated by food scientists specifically for malnourished children. Organizations in nearly 70 countries distribute these meals to children in greatest need. Since 2014, Woodbury Lutheran has packed roughly 3 million meals for FMSC!

Sweet Things!

Bethany Meyer | Wakota Ridge NextGen Minister
& Multisite Reach Coordinator

Grown closer with God by studying John and asking great questions, served on mission trips, Summer Blast teams and in many areas during Summer Stretch plus had fun with Miracle League, kayaking, mission trip adventures, and Valley Fair. Whew, how cool!

Throughout all of that, what I have enjoyed witnessing the most is the intentional, joy filled relationships that have begun and deepened over the summer. And I can't wait to see what this school year holds!

As we jump back into the Fall, let's keep that connection going and invite others to join us in it. Have you blocked out time for youth group? If not, I'd love for you to do it right now. We are excited for a year of learning, growing, questioning, and discovering, connecting and having fun with YOU!

Connecting and Engaging at the Valley Creek Campus

This Fall, so much of what is happening at the Valley Creek Campus is around “Connect and Engage.” The body of Christ thrives when its members are deeply connected and actively engaging in the ministry that is happening. This is an essential part of what it means to be a follower of Jesus!

What might “Connect and Engage” look like for you at the Valley Creek Campus?

It could start with staying and socializing with others around doughnuts the first Sunday of the month. Is there someone who you don't recognize or have seen for years but don't know their name? Introduce yourself! That simple step is critical in making the Valley Creek Campus become a place where people feel seen and known.

Another huge area where “Connect and Engage” is happening is around serving. We recently had a night of worship, celebration, and training for all of our servants and volunteers at Valley Creek. It was amazing to see all the people that God is using to make incredible ministry happen here. They are normal people who God has equipped to use in extraordinary ways!

How has God equipped you to use your gifts to serve? We will have two Sundays in September focused on “Connect and Engage.” I want to encourage you to be open to taking that next step in getting involved! God didn't create you to sit on the sideline. God has given you gifts and skills that He wants to use to bring the gospel to others. You are vital to this mission! I pray that you would be open to how God might use you because we need you engaged in our ministry.

As followers of Jesus, we are called to connect and engage, not only with those within these walls, but with those in the surrounding neighborhoods as well. We are super excited about the opportunities that God is opening for the Valley Creek campus to be actively involved in serving the local schools around us. God has surrounded our campus with so many opportunities and we are exploring how we can start to build deep relationships with the kids and staff in these local schools. This will be an amazing opportunity to shine the love of Jesus into our local community through various serving opportunities. If you are passionate about serving kids and our local schools, please reach out to either me or Bethany Meyer, our Local Reach Coordinator, so that we can help you get connected to this great opportunity.

It can be scary to take that next step of connecting and engaging. There is a certain vulnerability in stepping out into community and service. You are not alone in this. You are part of the body of Christ here at WLC and we are on this journey together. Let's not stay on the sideline any longer. This Fall, let's connect and engage!

Church Council Update August 2023

In order to continue to grow in our communication to the congregation, each month we will share an update from the previous month's Council meeting. Full minutes can be found HERE after the 10th of each month. After you click the link, scroll down to Council Minutes section.

Woodbury Lutheran Church - Council Meeting
Tuesday, August 8, 2023
6:30-8:30am

Meeting Highlights

EOS Operating System:

Over the last several months Mike and Tom have been looking into the EOS operating system to better run the day-to-day operations at WLC. Although EOS is primarily used in the business world it has applications that are very helpful in the non-profit and church sectors. We have spoken with another church that uses EOS and we have several upcoming meetings with integrators to see if this will be a good fit for us moving forward.

Council Advisory Teams:

The Financial Advisory Team is set up and will have their first meeting on September 5th. The team is made up of financial experts from the congregation and will assist Mike and Tom with the overall financial picture at WLC. The Governance Ministry Action Team is also up and running with the primary focus of reviewing the Constitution and making recommended changes that the congregation will eventually have to vote on. This team is made up of Ann Baumann and several lay people.

Executive Director Report:

Mike has been extremely busy with implementing new processes and several construction projects across all three campuses. Joel Wetzstein walked the Council through the process for changing our database to Church Center and fielded the Council's questions.
