

Christ-Centered Excellence. Wherever You Are.

Multi-Categorical Special Education

Help students reach their unique potential.

Special needs students and individuals with exceptionalities need teachers who recognize their potential and support their learning. In SWU's online Special Education program, you'll learn best practices for teaching individuals with disabilities in a K-12 setting.

Our highly trained faculty have diverse, real-world experiences in special education grounded in a Christian ethic of care—and by the time you graduate, so will you. All courses are seven weeks long and, with the exception of the pre-clinical and clinical experiences, fully online. Online doesn't mean remote, though: you'll have numerous opportunities to engage with both faculty and your peers. Scholarship funds are available through Project CREATE for full-time employees in South Carolina public and charter schools.

Scholarship Funds Available

CREATE CREATE underwrites all tuition, textbook, and Praxis II exam costs for qualified recipients.

Who Can Apply?

Full-time employees in instructional (teacher assistant) or non-instructional (custodial, bus driver, etc.) in South Carolina public and charter schools who do not have a Bachelor's degree can apply for CREATE scholarship funds.
