

B.A. in Music—Vocal (52-76 credits)

Division of Music and Fine Arts

The B.A. in Music provides students with a foundation in musical studies with a focus in vocal, instrumental, or piano performance while offering opportunities to integrate secondary areas such as business and production. Graduates of the Music program pursue graduate studies in music, as well as a range of careers in music-related fields like worship leadership, music performance, audio engineering, composing, private instruction, and music therapy.

This sample plan represents one possible pathway through the major. Individual plans may vary. Students may select one of two optional tracks: Contemporary Commercial Music Business or Contemporary Commercial Music Production. Courses vary by track and some courses are not offered every year. At least three (3) hours of MUSC 4800 Studies in Music Internship are required for both tracks. Students should consult with their academic advisors to develop a personalized degree plan.
