

Baptism Celebration – 6/5/11

Welcome; Visitors; This is a different service for us, a baptism celebration, where a total of 34 people are getting baptized this weekend – about half students and half adults
But before we get there, I want to take a few minutes, and be clear about what baptism is; B/c to some, it's just a glorified bath . . .
While to others it's a mysterious ritual, endowed with more meaning than was ever intended

So first of all . . .

It's a picture of salvation

Without ever saying a word, each baptism that you'll witness, is a picture of their death to sin, and Christ's death for their sin

Like Paul says in Rom 6:3 – Do you not know that all of us who have been baptized into Christ Jesus were baptized into his death?

IOW those who have been saved, baptized into Christ, brought under his influence just like we're brought under the influence of water in baptism . . .

Those who have been saved, were baptized into his death

That is, they were brought under the influence of his sin-defeating death on the cross

Which means two things

(a) They died to their sin – i.e. they were released from its grip, free to live a life pleasing to the Lord

(b) Christ died for their sin – releasing them from its penalty; the penalty of death

So without ever saying a word, each baptism that you'll witness, is a picture of their salvation – their death to sin, and Christ's death for their sin

- But that's not it – there's a third aspect of their salvation pictured by baptism, and that's their newness of life

Paul goes on to say in v4 – We were buried therefore with him by baptism into death

Once again, when we're saved, we experience the spiritual death of our old life, our old nature – by being brought under the influence of Christ's physical death on the cross

In order that, just as Christ was raised from the dead by the glory of the Father, we too might walk in newness of life

Just as Christ rose from the dead physically, we too might rise spiritually – to live a life that's new, and full, and forever

So without ever saying a word, each baptism you'll witness, is a picture of their salvation, and the new life it brings *****

- It's a picture; Not a prerequisite – don't get this wrong
Baptism doesn't save you; Or even contribute to your salvation
If that were the case, it would be a work; And the Bible clearly says that we are not saved by works – by external things we do

Rather, baptism shows that you have been saved

Picturing outwardly, what has already taken place inwardly – that you've died to sin, b/c Christ died for your sin . . .

And that you've have been raised to live a new life, for him; It's a picture of salvation

And second . . .

It's an expression of belief

Baptism is one of the main ways in the Bible, for us to say publicly, that we believe personally

That we believe in Jesus; That we believe his Word; That we trust him by faith, and live his way

Over and over again, people were baptized in the Bible to show their belief, to show their faith in Jesus

So by the very act of being baptized, each and every person is saying – I believe, I'm forgiven, and I'm His

- I believe, as in – I believe that when Jesus died, he died in my place, for my sins, paying the penalty I deserved

Baptism is an expression of your belief that Jesus died for you

It's also an expression of your belief that you're forgiven

That's the second thing being "said" – I'm forgiven

As in, I'm pardoned for all that I've ever done, and relieved of my guilt – b/c I've confessed my sin in godly sorrow

That is – I've admitted it to God, asked for forgiveness, and turned from it in repentance

Which means I'm forgiven; B/c 1 Jn 1:9 says – If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness.

That doesn't mean that the people getting baptized are perfect – they're not

It does mean that they're forgiven and right before God

Declared righteous, and growing in godliness

So baptism is an expression of belief to say – I believe, I'm forgiven, and I'm His

I'm a child of God, like John 1:12 says –

To all who did receive him [as opposed to those who didn't], who believed in his name, he gave the right to become children of God

Adopted into his family, and never to be forsaken; I'm His *****

- That's the story, the testimony, of every single person getting baptized – I believe, I'm forgiven, and I'm His; It's the work of grace that baptism pictures

And as you watch, if you find yourself thinking – "I don't have that; I don't know God like that;" Then listen carefully, and open your heart to him; Get saved

In fact, at the end of the service, I'm going to give you an opportunity to do exactly that

To confess your sin, ask forgiveness, believe in Jesus to save you, and receive him into your life as Lord – just like they have (Baptisms)
