You Are Not Alone Program

Do you have a friend or family member that is older and would benefit from being checked on regularly, or would you like to be visited to ensure you're doing well? You can sign up for the San Diego Police Department's "You Are Not Alone" (YANA) Program. YANA checks are usually for older adults who live alone but can also be for persons of any age that need their welfare regularly checked or for a short-term while recuperating from an illness or injury.

Who will visit me?

The Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP) is trained by and supplements the San Diego Police Department in performing community service functions. Two uniformed RSVPs will personally contact you weekly at a date and time designated by you. They will briefly visit and assess your welfare, and offer any referral assistance if necessary.

Sign up by visiting: <https://www.sandiego.gov/police/services/you-are-not-alone>

If you need help filling out the online form, contact Elaine and she will help you!
