Listen, O Israel: The Lord our God, the Lord is one. Love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your strength. These commandments that I give you today are to be on your hearts. Impress them on your children. Talk about them when you sit at home and when you walk along the road, when you lie down and when you get up. Tie them as symbols on your hands and bind them on your foreheads. Write them on the doorframes of your houses and on your gates.

RAISING DISCIPLES

When we plant in children's hearts stories about Jesus, his birth, his life, his ministry, his mission, his stories and finally, his death and resurrection, we plant a seed that has great potential of becoming a deeply rooted, sturdy tree with many wonderful branches. When we help our children fall in love with Jesus through their experience of God's story, we really are giving them the greatest gift. (Natalie Frisk)

While the cultural narrative says, "You'll never be enough, have enough, or know enough," the Jesus-centered narrative says, "In Christ, you are enough." In Christ, you are whole. In Christ, you are complete. When we allow our children time and space to experience the power of truth, our lifestyle transforms significantly. From striving to being in Christ. The very best gift we can give our children is to help them find their identity in Christ. Their enoughness. Their value as a child of the Most High God.

A photograph of a forest path with sunlight filtering through the trees, creating a warm and serene atmosphere. The path is covered in fallen leaves and leads into the distance. The trees are tall and slender, with dense green foliage. The overall scene is peaceful and natural.

Family

Children, obey your parents in the Lord, because it is right. The commandment Honor your father and mother is the first one with a promise attached: so that things will go well for you, and you will live for a long time in the land. As for parents, don't provoke your children to anger, but raise them with discipline and instruction about the Lord. Ephesians 6:1-4

PRAY, PRAY, PRAY

“Ask, and you will receive. Search, and you will find. Knock, and the door will be opened to you. For everyone who asks, receives. Whoever seeks, finds. And to everyone who knocks, the door is opened. Who among you will give your children a stone when they ask for bread? Or give them a snake when they ask for fish? If you who are evil know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more will your heavenly Father give good things to those who ask him.
