

Connect Group Discussion Guide

1. His-story isn't simply history. It is still being lived out today through you. His-story is written in history and the human heart. It is creating beauty out of brokenness, and it goes on as we live it out everyday. In what ways can you tell that Jesus' story is living on through you?
2. Jesus has not only come for you and desires to heal you, but He calls you. Do you have a sense that God is calling to you in some way? If so, in what way?
3. Believing in Jesus isn't the end game in your journey with God, it is the starting point. Jesus calls us to not only believe, but to follow Him. How are you following Him today? Are there any stumbling blocks to you following Him the way you would really like to?
4. Believing is the motivation, unction, and drive to actively "follow him". It impacts our thoughts, motives, mouths, hands and feet. Read the James verse. This is describing the impact of our faith on our actions. What in your actions points to your being a person of faith? If someone who did not know you personally—but interacted with you regularly—discovered you were a Christian, would the person be surprised? Explain your answer.
5. There is a personal relationship to following Jesus, but there is also a community relationship in how we engage with others. We are called to be "fishers of men" - meaning to tell everyone we know about the Gospel, no matter where they are from, where they live or even what they believe faith-wise. Are you living/telling/demonstrating your faith to others? If so, in what ways? If not, what small changes can you make to show and share what you believe?
6. In your Connect Group, spend some time talking what your faith has meant to you and how it has changed the way you interact with others—whether family members, friends, acquaintances, etc.
