Our congregation's vision is to be a welcoming Christ-centered community that cares for its church family and reaches outward to draw the wider community into the folds of Presbyterian tradition. Rooted in long-standing presence in the community, we seek to continue to nurture spiritual growth through sound Biblical teaching, foster belonging through multiple fellowship opportunities, and expanding our mission emphasis on faith-based practical service. Our ministry vision includes continued live-streaming, outreach to individuals that are unable to attend in person, civic engagement and collaboration through partnerships with other local ministries.

Our congregation serves a small city and surrounding rural area with deep roots, multi-generational families, and a significant number of long-term residents. Community strengths include close personal networks and civic pride; challenges include an aging population, social isolation, economic pressures on families, and growing needs for mental-health and social services. Many residents value traditional worship but also respond to accessible, modern outreach, such as online worship. We will address emerging needs by strengthening pastoral presence, digital access and building and equipping our lay ministry. Additionally, we will work to deepen relationships with local ministries, Presbytery and community agencies. Our goal is to continue our congregation's long community presence through meeting needs while building sustainable, volunteer-led ministries that extend care, deepen faith formation, and increase community resilience.

The pastor will provide spiritual leadership and vision while equipping and coordinating staff and volunteers. More specifically, the pastor will work in close collaboration with Clerk of Session, Session and the various committees such as finance, personnel and nominating, Christian education, worship and music, house, technology and health.

Additionally, the pastor will become familiar with the Board of Deacons and Presbyterian Women's Association Fellowship.

We seek a pastoral leader who combines solid theological grounding with practical, relational gifts to advance our congregation's vision. Such attributes should include strong biblical knowledge, empathy, humility and a prayerful resilient nature. Additionally, said pastor must be willing to learn and lean-in to the needs of our specific congregation, while having the ability to assess and address changes appropriately. Knowledge and confidence with computer skills (Microsoft Office Suite; Excel; PowerPoint; Outlook) and a willingness to collaborate with Clerk of Session, Session and committees on all levels of church business.
