Who is The Baptist Foundation of California?

The Baptist Foundation of California is a California Nonprofit Religious Corporation (“the Foundation” or “BFC”) and was incorporated in 1952 by incorporators selected by the Executive Board of the California Southern Baptist Convention (“Baptist Convention”). BFC is governed by a board of directors elected by the Baptist Convention.

The Foundation’s income comes primarily from five sources: (a) management fees for assets managed by the Foundation through its Investment Management and Trust Division; (b) management and related fees earned through its Lending Services Division; (c) investment income; (d) gifts and (e) other miscellaneous sources.

The Foundation’s Investment Management and Trust Division manages assets as follows. The Foundation’s own Common Investment Funds (CIFs) invest across a broad range of asset classes. Investments are made in marketable securities (stocks, bonds, exchange traded funds, mutual funds, etc.), as well as in the private markets (Private Equity, Venture Capital, Private Credit, Hedge Funds, etc.). Some Common Investment Funds are primarily invested in church loans and church bonds. Such investments are viewed as Missional Impact Investments and are in keeping with the mission of the Foundation and the expectations of participants. Many of the church loans were originated by the Foundation's Lending Services Division.

What is the purpose of The Baptist Foundation of California?

The Foundation - exists to help resource the expansion of the Kingdom of God in California, across the nation, and around the world.

The primary purpose of the Foundation in fulfilling its mission is to generate perpetual resources for Baptist and other Christian causes by serving faithful stewards. The Foundation generates perpetual resources as it grows the trusts, endowments, and other assets it manages. Each year the Foundation distributes millions of dollars of earnings from these funds to Baptist entities and others within California, the US, and around the world. The Foundation grows the funds it manages by promoting charitable bequests through thoughtfully planned and properly drafted estate plans, assisting with the planning and implementing of charitable gift arrangements, and managing assets entrusted to the Foundation with the ultimate aim of providing support for the mission and ministry efforts of Southern Baptists and other like-minded Christians.

The Foundation encourages faithful stewardship by:

- Managing funds entrusted to it in an effective and socially responsible manner;
- Educating people in biblical stewardship, appropriate Christian inheritance planning, and financial management techniques;
- Providing fiduciary and fund management services which facilitate fiscally responsible investing and the resourcing of ministry;
- Striving for excellence and efficiency in all operational activities; and
- Operating with the highest Christian moral and ethical standards.

Who can invest with The Baptist Foundation of California?

The Foundation manages funds for entities or trusts which fall into one or more of the following categories of "Eligible Participants": (1) Baptist institutions, agencies, commissions, foundations, organizations, associations, and churches which are recognized as exempt from federal income tax under 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 as amended ("charitable entity") and who are affiliated with the California Southern Baptist Convention, the Southern Baptist Convention or other state Baptist Conventions ("Baptist entity"); or (2) a trust with either its total remainder or its income for a predetermined period designated for charitable organizations in accordance with IRS guidelines with at least half of the distributions designated to be made to a Baptist entity; or (3) such other qualified charitable trusts or charitable entities, which may or may not be affiliated with said Baptist Conventions, the funds of which the Board of Directors of The Baptist Foundation of California has determined would be appropriate to receive and administer. None of the funds invested with the Foundation may be held as part of a Participant's retirement plan (such as a 403b or 401k plan).

Biblically Responsible Investing

The Foundation, responding to the Biblical challenge of responsible stewardship, calls for conscious investment decisions consistent with Christian morality and ethical principles. Assets managed by the Foundation are managed with consideration for Christian moral and ethical values of investing. The Foundation encourages investment in those corporations that promote the common good and avoids, where administratively feasible, investment in companies whose principal business activities are inconsistent with Christian moral and ethical values. An overview of the social screening characteristics applied to equity and debt investments is described in The Baptist Foundation of California Investment Policy. The policy is available upon request.

How does a church invest with the Foundation?

Any organization wishing to have their assets managed by the Foundation must sign an Investment Custodial Agreement. Once the signed agreement and assets are received in the Foundation's office, investments are made in an allocation selected by the investing organization. The assets are not held in the name of the Foundation but rather in a custodial account. Purchases and withdrawals may be made in the form of check, ACH, or wire transfer.

Schedule of Fees

Fees for managed funds apply to those accounts managed by the Foundation. The fee is an annualized fee based on the assets under management. All fees shall be payable from the assets invested by the Participants in the Funds. All asset management fees and additional fees for various services may apply and can be found in the BFC Fee Schedule. Fees are subject to change.
