

If Money Talked Financial Peace

What is more dangerous for our souls, _____ or pornography?
(Lk. 12:15; Mk. 10:24-25; 1 Tim. 6:10-11)

_____ is the assumption that all I have is for my consumption.

When it comes to being rich (and every American is rich by world standards), we don't _____.

We are to seek heavenly _____ to handle money rightly.
(Phil. 4:12-13)

Lose _____ of me and lose your _____. (Mt. 25:14-19)

Most Americans, if we're really honest, don't know where our _____
_____.

The foundational habit to finding financial peace is _____ _____ of where we spend our money.

It sounds so _____ that we can dismiss it as _____.

Challenge: _____ of your expenses for _____
_____.

Then ask, "Am I spending money as it needs to be spent – the way _____ wants me to spend it?"

I can _____ the way God wants through Christ who gives me strength.

As rich people, it is imperative that we get our hearts and practices aligned with God so that we can be free – _____ – so we can be trusted with true riches.

Take Financial Peace University the next time we offer it as a _____ (or do it online at financialpeace.com).

Note: A special thanks to Pastor Andy Stanley. I "borrowed" a lot of ideas for this series from his sermon series by the same title. I would recommend the series to you for further study.