

Discussion Guide

Discussion Guides accompany the weekly message.

Opening Activity:

When was the last time you were genuinely in awe of something—so much that it made you stop, reflect, or respond? What did it stir in you?

Read:

Psalm 8:1-4, 9

Psalm 100:1-5

Discussion Questions:

1. In Psalm 8:1-4, what stands out to you about who God is—and who we are in comparison? How does that shape your view of yourself and your worship?
2. Psalm 100:1-2 calls us to worship with joy and gladness. What does that reveal about the kind of heart posture God desires?
3. From Psalm 100:3-5, what specific reasons are we given to worship and thank God? Which one resonates most with you right now?
4. Why do you think worship can drift into routine instead of staying personal and awe-filled?
5. The message emphasized starting with who God is. What would change in your prayer life if you consistently began there?
6. Where in your life do you tend to focus more on yourself than on God's greatness? How does that affect your worship?
7. What do you think childlike faith looks like in real life—and what might it take for you to grow in that?
8. Psalm 50:23 says thanksgiving is a sacrifice. Why do you think gratitude can feel difficult at times? What might that reveal about your heart?
9. Which form of worship (prayer, thanksgiving, praise, celebration) comes most naturally to you—and which one do you sense God inviting you to grow in right now?
10. If you truly lived this week like "the Lord is God and you are His," what is one specific thing that would look different in your life?

Challenge for the Week:

Choose one new way to worship God daily (prayer, gratitude, praise, or celebration) and practice it intentionally. Write down what you notice, and be ready to share how it impacted your heart next week.
