

Must Be Nice

CASE STUDY 12

Jeremy, a Christian, pulled nails from pieces of lumber as he watched the owner of the construction company pull into the job site in his luxury SUV. Jeremy was the youngest and newest worker on the site, so he got all the jobs nobody else wanted to do. And he didn't make much money.

Jeremy daydreamed about what it would be like to be the owner and drive around in a luxury car all day.

"Must be nice," he thought. "Not a care in the world with all that money to spend and no hard work to break his back. He's got it made. Maybe someday I can own my own company and tell other people what to do."

1. Evaluate what Jeremy concluded about the company owner, a man who doesn't know Christ.
2. What blessings is Jeremy forgetting to count?
3. How should the prophetic scene in Revelation 20:11–15 affect Jeremy's perspective on the business owner's life?
4. What tends to distract you from the reality of coming judgment on the lost?
5. Who do you need to see as lost? Pray for an opportunity to boldly share the gospel with that person.
