

Proclaiming Evidence for Truth

THIS WEEK'S CREATION MOMENT

Feline Secrets

*"And Adam gave names to all cattle, and to all fowl of the air, and to every beast of the field; but for Adam there was not found an help meet for him."
- Genesis 2:20*

A survey of pet owners revealed that more Americans now have cats as pets than dogs. While dogs may be "man's best friend," cats have, in certain cultures, been considered the companion of choice. Scientists have found that the popular belief that a cat's whiskers measure the width of a space it is about to enter is in error. Cats have 25 to 30 long whiskers on their heads. Each whisker is attached to its own nerve in the skin, allowing the cat to pinpoint every twig as it maneuvers through underbrush.

A steady stare between two cats can be understood as a challenge. But a slow blink is a sign of acceptance. If you have a cat, try slowly closing your eyes and opening them again; you may find that your cat will return your signal as a sign of friendship. And did you know that you can use your cat to tell the temperature of a room? Dr. Hans Precht, a German animal expert, found that if a room's temperature is above 70 degrees, a cat prefers to lay in a straight position with head lifted and paws extended. From this point, the cooler the room, the more the cat curls its body and the lower it tucks its head, until, at 55 degrees, the cat is curled into a tight ball with its head against its hind leg.

Thankfully, God knows that we need companionship. After all, He created humans for the very purpose of having companionship with Himself. But we are not like pets, for He spared nothing, not even the life of His Son, to save us from our sin.

Image: Orange tabby cat sitting on blue background, Envato.

CREATION MOMENTS, INC.

P.O. Box 839 • Foley, MN 56329 • 800-422-4253

Proclaiming Evidence for Truth

THIS WEEK'S CREATION MOMENT

Feline Secrets

*"And Adam gave names to all cattle, and to all fowl of the air, and to every beast of the field; but for Adam there was not found an help meet for him."
- Genesis 2:20*

A survey of pet owners revealed that more Americans now have cats as pets than dogs. While dogs may be "man's best friend," cats have, in certain cultures, been considered the companion of choice. Scientists have found that the popular belief that a cat's whiskers measure the width of a space it is about to enter is in error. Cats have 25 to 30 long whiskers on their heads. Each whisker is attached to its own nerve in the skin, allowing the cat to pinpoint every twig as it maneuvers through underbrush.

A steady stare between two cats can be understood as a challenge. But a slow blink is a sign of acceptance. If you have a cat, try slowly closing your eyes and opening them again; you may find that your cat will return your signal as a sign of friendship. And did you know that you can use your cat to tell the temperature of a room? Dr. Hans Precht, a German animal expert, found that if a room's temperature is above 70 degrees, a cat prefers to lay in a straight position with head lifted and paws extended. From this point, the cooler the room, the more the cat curls its body and the lower it tucks its head, until, at 55 degrees, the cat is curled into a tight ball with its head against its hind leg.

Thankfully, God knows that we need companionship. After all, He created humans for the very purpose of having companionship with Himself. But we are not like pets, for He spared nothing, not even the life of His Son, to save us from our sin.

Image: Orange tabby cat sitting on blue background, Envato.

CREATION MOMENTS, INC.

P.O. Box 839 • Foley, MN 56329 • 800-422-4253