This Week

REFLECTION

1. Which posture toward God comes most naturally to me —
The Therapist, The Warden, or The Landlord? What does that reveal about how I actually see Him?

2. Where has my picture of God shrunk? What would change in how I pray, worship, or live if I saw Him more clearly?

3. What does my prayer life reveal about how I actually approach God — casually, fearfully, or with reverent awe?

THIS WEEK'S PRACTICE

EXODUS3:5—TAKEOFF YOUR SANDALS

Before you pray each day this week, pause. Say His name first. Then pray.

As you think about coming to church next week, ask yourself honestly:

What does the way I arrive say about who I believe is already here?

Is there something you could do differently — before you walk through the doors, as you find your seat, as worship begins — that would be away of taking off your sandals?

WRITE IT DOWN

“The fear of the LORD leads to life; then one rests content, untouched by trouble.” — Proverbs 19:23
