

Ecclesiastes

10/04/26

The _____ of _____ .

Ecclesiastes 12: ____ - ____

_____ is never _____ to us.

_____ God _____ .

The point is _____ can hurt before it _____ .

John 10: ____

_____ is our good _____ .

_____ God and keep His _____ .

James 1: ____ - ____

_____ is not the same as _____

Ecclesiastes

10/04/26

The _____ of _____ .

Ecclesiastes 12: ____ - ____

_____ is never _____ to us.

_____ God _____ .

The point is _____ can hurt before it _____ .

John 10: ____

_____ is our good _____ .

_____ God and keep His _____ .

James 1: ____ - ____

_____ is not the same as _____

[illegible]

- 1. Where have I been postponing my response to God? Have I been telling myself that I will pray, forgive, serve, surrender, or take my faith more seriously later? What is one step God may be asking me to take now?
- 2. What has been distracting me from remembering my Creator? Have busyness, comfort, disappointment, success, or the pursuit of something that will not last pushed God away from the center of my life? What would it look like to seek Him in the middle of my life as it is today?
- 3. Where do I know God's truth but still resist obeying it? Is there a relationship, attitude, habit, or hidden compromise in which I have settled for knowing what God says without doing it? What might faithful obedience require of me this week?
- 4. What would change if I truly remembered that my life belongs to God? How would that truth shape my priorities, decisions, time, relationships, and use of the gifts He has entrusted to me? Where is the Good Shepherd inviting me to follow Him next?

[illegible]

- 1. Where have I been postponing my response to God? Have I been telling myself that I will pray, forgive, serve, surrender, or take my faith more seriously later? What is one step God may be asking me to take now?
- 2. What has been distracting me from remembering my Creator? Have busyness, comfort, disappointment, success, or the pursuit of something that will not last pushed God away from the center of my life? What would it look like to seek Him in the middle of my life as it is today?
- 3. Where do I know God's truth but still resist obeying it? Is there a relationship, attitude, habit, or hidden compromise in which I have settled for knowing what God says without doing it? What might faithful obedience require of me this week?
- 4. What would change if I truly remembered that my life belongs to God? How would that truth shape my priorities, decisions, time, relationships, and use of the gifts He has entrusted to me? Where is the Good Shepherd inviting me to follow Him next?