

Revelation

09/06/26

John is being shown the conflict between

_____ & _____ on a _____ level.

Revelation 12: ____-____

We have the _____, the _____, and the _____

The _____ represents _____ itself.

_____ is a fancy word for _____.

_____ showed up in a _____.

Revelation 19: ____-____

1. The _____ is already _____

2. God's _____ does not _____ on _____

John 3: ____-____ / Revelation 21: ____-____

Revelation

09/06/26

John is being shown the conflict between

_____ & _____ on a _____ level.

Revelation 12: ____-____

We have the _____, the _____, and the _____

The _____ represents _____ itself.

_____ is a fancy word for _____.

_____ showed up in a _____.

Revelation 19: ____-____

1. The _____ is already _____

2. God's _____ does not _____ on _____

John 3: ____-____ / Revelation 21: ____-____

[illegible]

- 1. Am I living with hope or fear? Where am I allowing fear about the future or my circumstances to take over? What would it look like to trust that Jesus wins, even when I don't know how things will turn out?
- 2. What battle am I trying to fight on my own? Where am I relying on my own strength instead of trusting Jesus? What would it look like to surrender that battle to Him this week?
- 3. Do I really believe that God's victory does not depend on me? What am I trying to control, fix, or carry that I need to surrender to God? What would it look like to trust Him with it?
- 4. If I know how the story ends, how should I live today? How should knowing that Jesus wins change the way I face my circumstances, relationships, struggles, and decisions this week?

[illegible]

- 1. Am I living with hope or fear? Where am I allowing fear about the future or my circumstances to take over? What would it look like to trust that Jesus wins, even when I don't know how things will turn out?
- 2. What battle am I trying to fight on my own? Where am I relying on my own strength instead of trusting Jesus? What would it look like to surrender that battle to Him this week?
- 3. Do I really believe that God's victory does not depend on me? What am I trying to control, fix, or carry that I need to surrender to God? What would it look like to trust Him with it?
- 4. If I know how the story ends, how should I live today? How should knowing that Jesus wins change the way I face my circumstances, relationships, struggles, and decisions this week?