

Luke 1: ____ - ____

_____ and _____ are not opposites .

Mary was _____. She knew God knows _____ .

Do whatever _____ wants you to do,

no matter the _____ .

Luke 1 : ____ - ____

What has God _____ you to do to bring

_____ .

Feelings aren't _____, they just don't make good _____.

Have _____ no matter the _____ .

Reflection during the week:

1. Where in my life is God asking me to trust Him with something that doesn't make sense yet—like Mary did? What is my first reaction when God's plan feels confusing, risky, or inconvenient? Do I respond with fear, control, or surrender?
2. What would it look like for me to humbly say, "I am the Lord's servant" in my current season? In what specific area of my life am I putting my plans, timeline, or comfort above God's will—and what would obedience look like instead?
3. How can I choose to glorify God instead of myself this week? Where am I tempted to seek recognition, praise, or control? What is one way I can intentionally shift the focus back to God and give Him credit for the good in my life?
