

Miracles Aren't the Focus

01/11/25

John ___ focus on verses ___ - ___

They were more _____ in
what He could _____ than who he _____.

Following Jesus wouldn't just mean _____
but rather it would mean _____.

Three reminders for us:

1. It's _____ about _____.

God's Faithfulness isn't measure by _____ ...
it's revealed in His _____.

2. It's not about the _____.

Miracles are _____ ... not substitutes for _____

3. It's all about _____.

Miracles Aren't the Focus

01/11/25

John ___ focus on verses ___ - ___

They were more _____ in
what He could _____ than who he _____.

Following Jesus wouldn't just mean _____
but rather it would mean _____.

Three reminders for us:

1. It's _____ about _____.

God's Faithfulness isn't measure by _____ ...
it's revealed in His _____.

2. It's not about the _____.

Miracles are _____ ... not substitutes for _____

3. It's all about _____.

Reflection during the week:

1. Why am I following Jesus right now? As you reread John 6:26–27, ask yourself honestly: am I drawn to Jesus more for what He can do for me, or for who He is? Where might I be seeking results more than relationship?
2. How do I respond when God doesn't answer my prayers the way I hoped? When disappointment, delay, or silence comes, do I assume something is wrong with God—or with me? How might this week be an invitation to trust God's character even when I don't understand His choices?
3. What would it look like for Jesus to be "enough" in my current season? As you reflect on John 6:68–69, where do you feel tempted to walk away, disengage, or lower your expectations? What does staying with Jesus look like when the road is confusing or costly?
4. Am I still praying big prayers while releasing control of the outcome? How can I hold both together this week—bold faith and humble trust? Where is God inviting me to bring my deepest hopes to Him while surrendering my grip on how and when He must act?

Shrove Tuesday Pancake Dinner

Donations for A|SM

5:30 - 7:00pm

17 February 2026

Reflection during the week:

1. Why am I following Jesus right now? As you reread John 6:26–27, ask yourself honestly: am I drawn to Jesus more for what He can do for me, or for who He is? Where might I be seeking results more than relationship?
2. How do I respond when God doesn't answer my prayers the way I hoped? When disappointment, delay, or silence comes, do I assume something is wrong with God—or with me? How might this week be an invitation to trust God's character even when I don't understand His choices?
3. What would it look like for Jesus to be "enough" in my current season? As you reflect on John 6:68–69, where do you feel tempted to walk away, disengage, or lower your expectations? What does staying with Jesus look like when the road is confusing or costly?
4. Am I still praying big prayers while releasing control of the outcome? How can I hold both together this week—bold faith and humble trust? Where is God inviting me to bring my deepest hopes to Him while surrendering my grip on how and when He must act?

Shrove Tuesday Pancake Dinner

Donations for A|SM

5:30 - 7:00pm

17 February 2026