"Meek Strength"
1 Samuel 25: 1 - 44
Pastor Clay Smith

- When have you, like David, reacted out of anger instead of relying on God's promises? Reflect on a time when your emotions, particularly anger, overtook your judgment. How might remembering your identity as a child of God have changed your response?

- Abigail used meekness to bring about peace. What does biblical meekness look like in your relationships? How can you apply meek strength in situations where others are angry or irrational? What might it look like to use your strength for the good of others?

- What warning lights might indicate that your anger is sinful rather than righteous? Think about the "dashboard lights" from the sermon—disproportionate response, desire to hurt, or fear rooted in shame. Which of these do you see in yourself most often, and how can you respond in repentance?

- Who in your life serves as an "Abigail"—a godly voice who helps guide you back to faithfulness? Are you open to correction from others? What makes it difficult to hear truth from someone else, even if spoken gently? How might God be calling you to be an Abigail for someone else?
