Accredible's Mission

Catalyzing the shift in social capital away from pedigree, towards evidence of skill

Accredible is the actualization of an ideal. Knowledge, whether learned in a classroom or a book, shouldn't be restricted by circumstance. If you have a skill and can prove it, then it should be credible

Founders

Danny King and Alan Heppenstall see a great shift in the progress of education. Advancing technology brings quality education to places once deprived. They are encouraged by technology's potential to democratize opportunity by breaking down geographic and economic barriers to learning and by working to change the way knowledge is recognized

“Today, all you need to get world-class knowledge is motivation and an Internet connection. The next step is to make all knowledge credible, regardless of how or where it was obtained” — Danny King, Co-founder & CEO
