

Elise Lockamy-Kassim, MSPH

ASSISTANT VICE PRESIDENT

WELLSTAR COMMUNITY HEALTH AND CENTER FOR HEALTH EQUITY

Elise Lockamy-Kassim serves as Wellstar Health System's Assistant Vice President for Community Health and the Center for Health Equity. In her role, Elise drives alignment of policies and programs with the needs of medically underserved communities in Wellstar's service area. A former Centers for Disease Control and Prevention Health Scientist, her experience spans topics such as caregiver health, lead poisoning prevention, asthma prevention and control, childhood injury prevention, and health equity.

A Brooklyn, NY native, Elise received her undergraduate degree from Georgetown University and a Master of Science of Public Health degree from the Gillings School of Global Public Health at the University of North Carolina (UNC) at Chapel Hill.

Since 2019 she has served on the Board of Directors of Empowerment Resource Center, a non-profit community clinic headquartered in Fulton County, GA. In 2023, she was recognized by Diversity MBA as a Top 100 Under 50 Leader in corporate America; she is also a member of the 2023 Atlanta Regional Commission Regional Leadership Institute cohort. Elise lives in the Atlanta metro area with her husband Ayodeji and daughter Fiona.
