

Todd E. Schlesinger
Head of Sales and Marketing
Azara Healthcare

Bio – Todd E. Schlesinger

Todd joined Azara Healthcare in early in 2022 as head of Sales and Marketing. Todd is a strategic corporate development and innovation leader with over 20 years in the Healthcare IT space and brings with him a sustained success in Fortune 50 and start-up organizations. Todd is respected industry-wide as a strategic business advisor and partner in driving improvements in patient care and clinical quality outcomes cultivating environments of innovation, intrapreneurship, revenue growth and brand recognition. Prior to joining Azara, Todd spent nearly 10 years as National Vice President of Business Development at Jvion, an AI solution used to predict adverse patient outcomes, where he drove brand credibility and customer engagement across the spectrum of healthcare settings. Throughout his career, Todd has provided business development and client relations leadership in Healthcare IT consulting and enterprise solutions focused organizations where he directed strategy and roadmap for revenue generation. Todd holds a Master of Science of Information Communication Science from Ball State University and a Bachelor of Business Administration and Management from University of Miami Herbert Business School.