

Sabrina Broadnax
Vice President of Human Resources
Grady

Sabrina Broadnax is the Vice President of Human Resources at Grady, a Human Resources professional with over 25 years of experience across various industries, including healthcare, retail, social services, and education. Broadnax's personal commitment to diversity, inclusion, equity, and resiliency awareness is evidenced by her wide-ranging credentials and leadership.

Her focuses include organizational development assessments and business administration, with an emphasis in human resources. Having worked with leaders, staff, and learners in organizations and the community, she brings to the inaugural Health Equity, Diversity, and Inclusion Advisory Council a unique professional background.

While humbled to work in an organization that gives her the opportunity to make professional and community contributions, Sabrina is most proud of being a daughter, sister, wife, mother, and grandmother. Believing that being present, purposeful, and intentional in life garners gratitude, grace, and greatness, she is blessed to have the gifts of family, village, and legacy.
