

Trevor Strauss serves as a Senior Vice President for HWL and has been developing innovative solutions with healthcare organizations since 2008. His passion is helping organizations reposition themselves to create the future they desire to meet their human capital, operational, and financial goals while ensuring patient care delivery.

He received his BS from Lock Haven University, MBA from East Carolina University, and is Fellow of the American College of Healthcare Executives. He is based out of Atlanta, GA and can be reached at tstrauss@hwlworks.com or 770-298-0122.