

Trisha Hardy is a strategic and results-driven human resources leader with nearly a decade of experience driving organizational excellence.

As Vice President of Human Resources at Children's Healthcare of Atlanta, she leads a team of 200 professionals, focusing on talent management, employee engagement, and workforce strategy. With a background in public health and a track record of implementing innovative programs, Trisha has been instrumental in improving retention, optimizing compensation structures, and fostering inclusive workplace cultures. She is a trusted advisor to senior leadership, leveraging data-driven insights to shape HR strategies that enhance performance, productivity, and employee well-being.

She enjoys giving back and serves on the Atlanta Track Club and Children's Museum of Atlanta Boards as well as mentors young girls teaching them skills that enable them to reach their full potential.