

Jason Wolf, PhD, CPXP
President and CEO
The Beryl Institute

Jason Wolf, PhD, CPXP, is President and CEO of The Beryl Institute, a global community dedicated to improving the human experience in healthcare. A recognized international thought leader, Jason has partnered with healthcare organizations, government agencies, and professional associations across the world to advance patient experience, workforce well-being, and healthcare transformation.

As a bestselling author and founding editor of Patient Experience Journal, Jason has helped shape the global conversation on human-centered healthcare. Through his work with leaders across diverse countries and healthcare systems, he brings a unique perspective on the opportunities and challenges of delivering compassionate, equitable, and high-quality care in an increasingly interconnected world.