

Dr. Tina Robinson MD FACP Associate Medical Director for Quality and Patient Safety

Dr. Tina Robinson oversees varied aspects of the National KP Quality Aims (Safe, Timely, Effective, Efficient, Equitable, Timely, Person-Centered) for The Southeast Permanente Medical Group, as part of Kaiser Permanente Georgia. Responsibilities include quality oversight and improvement, population care, performance improvement, peer review, simulation and team training, medical ethics, safety systems, innovation and human-centered design, research, threat management, and laboratory medicine. She serves as a National Permanente Quality Leader (NPQL) on behalf of KPGA for the KP National Quality Committee. She is Internal Medicine Board Certified and a Fellow of the American College of Physician. She practices ambulatory internal medicine at KP clinic locations in south metro Atlanta.

She joined TSPMG in February 2003. Her previous leadership work has included Physician Lead for Quality in Adult and Family Medicine, Physician Director for Pay for Performance programs, Adult Medicine Area Chief and Adult Medicine team lead. She was a paneled PCP in Adult Medicine for 17 years.

She graduated from the University of Alabama School of Medicine. She trained in Internal Medicine at the University of Tennessee, Memphis Health Science Center. She was a chief resident then instructor at the UT Memphis Department of Medicine. She practiced internal medicine at Johns Hopkins Bayview in Baltimore, Maryland before moving to Georgia.

She is a native of Alabama and enjoys spending time with her family. Her husband, Rod, is a neonatologist and they have 3, now adult, children – Katie, Allie and Matthew. She enjoys taking walks with her Golden Retriever, Blue, playing the piano, gardening, reading, and traveling.