

Jeffrey Hines, MD

Medical Director for Diversity, Inclusion and Health Equity
Wellstar Health System

Chief, Division of Gynecologic Oncology, Wellstar Medical Group

Presently the Chief of Gynecologic Oncology for Wellstar Medical Group, Jeffery Hines is a Clinical Instructor, Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology, at the Georgia Regents University School of Medicine. He is a Diplomate of the American Board of Obstetrics and Gynecology and a Fellow of the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists. He serves as the Principal Investigator for NRG, Oncology for the Wellstar Health System, is on the Board of Directors for Breakthrough Atlanta and is chair of the governance committee, and is on the Diversity and Inclusion, Awards and the Membership Committees for the Society of Gynecologic Oncology.

As a Corporation fellow for Brown University, his leadership positions include serving as chair of the oversight committee for the diversity strategic plan and vice chair of the campus life committee and co-chair of the Brown Annual Fund. Jeff has a keen interest and expertise in the field of diversity, equity and inclusion.

Dr. Hines is the recipient of numerous local and national teaching and research awards and the US Army Meritorious Service Medal. Dr. Hines was listed as one of Atlanta's Top Doctors in the 2005 - 2020 editions of Atlanta Magazine. Georgia Governor Sonny Perdue nominated Dr. Hines to serve on the Governor's Task Force for the Elimination of Cervical cancer for the State of Georgia.

A graduate of the Warren Alpert Medical School of Brown University School of Medicine, Dr. Hines completed his residency in Obstetrics and Gynecology at Fitzsimons Army Medical Center, Aurora, CO and deployed as a Battalion Surgeon during Operation Desert Shield and Operation Desert Storm. Following his fellowship in Gynecologic Oncology at Georgetown University Medical Center, he has held prominent positions at Brooke Army Medical Center the Uniformed Services University for the Health Sciences, Bethesda, MD.

Jeff is active with the education and missionary ministries of his local church and has participated in medical mission trips to impoverished locations around the world to include Jamaica and the Philippines. Jeff is married to a pediatrician and is the father of two children and a proud grandfather. He spends much of his personal time researching and collecting African-American art and enjoys running marathons.